Thanks to one of two $5 million gifts – the largest individual donation in A-State Athletics history – by alumnus Johnny Allison, a "Centennial Expansion" construction and renovation project to the stadium's press box and west-side concourse took place prior to the start of the 2015 season.

The entire project, including the press box and concourse, covered 40,000 square feet. The Centennial Expansion project included a complete overhaul to the stadium press box, expanding it from 7,120 to 36,000 square feet.

The face of the stadium has been redesigned to include 42 loge boxes, 20 suites, a club area covering close to 8,000 square feet and 344 club seats in its revenue-generating areas.

Not only has depth been added to the press box, it now spans from approximately the 15-to-15 yard lines, allowing for enhanced media, coaching, broadcasting, control booth, visiting athletics director suite, and camera areas.

The project also called for major improvements and additions to the concourse bathrooms, concessions, gating and ticketing areas that have enhanced the game-day experience for all A-State fans.

A-State partnered with Daktronics Inc. prior to the start of the 2014 season to install an approximately 1,600-square-foot LED video display scoreboard in Centennial Bank Stadium's south end zone, along with a custom audio system, delay-of-game clocks and locker room clocks. The south end zone display measures approximately 32 feet high by 50 feet wide and features a 15HD pixel layout. A Daktronics standard fixed-digit scoreboard measuring 8 feet high by 32 feet wide was installed in the north end zone to keep fans informed of the score, game time remaining, quarter, time outs remaining and other statistical information. The four additional game clocks are located at each end of the field and in each locker room to assist with game flow and informing teams of time remaining during breaks in the action.

A Centennial Bank Stadium-record crowd of 31,243 was on hand to watch the Red Wolves play Middle Tennessee on Dec. 1, 2012.

A-State's first game at Centennial Bank Stadium was played Sept. 28, 1974. The stadium, which now seats 30,382, has undergone several renovations since then and more are currently underway.

A-State originally transitioned from a grass field to an artificial playing surface prior to the 2006 season and upgraded to a state-of-the-art GEO Surfaces field turf in 2010. A new field was installed the summer prior to the start of the 2016 season. Like the original field turf installed 12 years ago, the new product still features a large A-State logo in the center of the field. The multi-use surface provides year-round training opportunities for other A-State sports in addition to the school's football program.

A three-story football complex was built in the stadium's south end zone in 2002, which followed a stadium expansion in 1991 that raised the seating from 16,343 to 30,406.

Centennial Bank Stadium features a four-story press box, which houses media areas, coaching booths, broadcasting locations, a video control booth, camera areas, suites, a club area and more. Additionally, new premium seating areas will be in place for the 2018 season as part of A-State's north end zone expansion project, which will also include an operations center.

HOME SUCCESS

With a 4-1 home mark last season, Arkansas State secured its 13th consecutive winning record at Centennial Bank Stadium dating back to 2005. A-State is now 59-14 at Centennial Bank Stadium since the 2005 season and has won 34 of its last 37 home games. The Red Wolves actual on-field record all-time at Centennial Bank Stadium is 151-77-1 since it opened in 1974. A-State's six home wins in 2011 were its most since 1985.

In 2002, players and coaches moved into a new three-story facility which features office space for coaches, dressing rooms, meeting rooms and a players' lounge.

On the ground floor are locker rooms, a player lounge area and the entrance to the weight room. Coach Anderson and his staff can be found at the complex with offices and video areas located on the second floor. The top floor includes meeting rooms which are also utilized as academic study areas, conference rooms, alumni function areas, booster meetings, recruiting and other gatherings. It also houses the Bill Templeton Recruiting Room.

The complex is not just the three-story building, but also Centennial Bank Stadium and the surrounding parking areas, practice fields and concession stands.

The structure complements the new video scoreboard, which measures approximately 32 feet high by 50 feet wide and features a 15HD pixel layout, constructed prior to the start of the 2014 season. This massive structure is located in the south end zone.

The former football facility, now known as the Charles Luter Family Academic Success Center, houses academic and student services, compliance and some sports offices.

Arkansas State University began construction on a 78,000-square foot Student Activity Center (SAC), which also serves as an indoor practice facility for the A-State football team, in spring of 2014. Located on the northeast corner of campus near Centennial Bank Stadium, the approximately 78,000-square foot building provides a new venue for multiple programs across the university. The SAC was designed by Brackett Krennerich Architects of Jonesboro and Sparks Reed Architecture and Interiors of Tulsa, Okla. The Student Activity Center was the first part of a university master plan for the eastern side of campus that continues with the North End Zone Expansion project, a separate 66,500-square foot project being funded independently of the SAC.

STUDENT ACTIVITY CENTER | 9 | @AStateFB

Construction is underway on a two-level 66,500-square foot football facility in Centennial Bank Stadium's north end zone. The Arkansas State Athletics Department is committed to providing its student-athletes, coaches and loyal fan base with the best facilities and amenities within the conference and across the country. The renovation to the north end zone will enhance its fan game day experience, and assist in the Red Wolves' ability to recruit and train the best student-athletes to Arkansas State University. In constructing the new premium seating options and team complex, A-State will create an electric atmosphere and enhance the home field advantage at Centennial Bank Stadium. First and foremost, the project will enhance the Arkansas State student-athlete experience. The project features include a new weight room and training/rehabilitation area, new team locker room, position meeting rooms, players' lounge, academic rooms and team-theater meeting area. The Red Wolves Den, A-State's new outdoor premium seating options, will create a unique experience for fans; comprised of loge boxes and terrace seating with premium food and access to two cash bars.

The Arkansas State University Board of Trustees voted on Dec. 11, 2017, to name A-State's football field "Allison Field" and its future north end zone facility "Centennial Bank Athletics Operations Center" in recognition of a combined $10 million from the Johnny Allison family and Centennial Bank to the Red Wolves Foundation. Honoring the former A-State letterman who played on the 1968 football team, served on the ASU Board of Trustees from 1979-84 and was named an Arkansas State University Distinguished Alumni in 1998, "Allison Field" will proudly be displayed at multiple locations on the field as well as the tunnel entrance into the Centennial Bank Athletics Operations Center. With Centennial Bank's $5-million sponsorship, its previously acquired naming rights to Centennial Bank Stadium will be extended by 10 years to 2037. The new construction in the north end zone will now display the Centennial Bank Stadium name.

One of the most impressive aspects of Arkansas State's Football Complex is the athletics performance program and the weight room. Success on the football field begins in the weight room, and A-State has one of the best.

Arkansas State's athletics department moved one huge step closer to achieving its goal of a new Performance Enhancement Complex when a gift of $250,000 from longtime supporters Boe and Myrna Adams of Leachville was presented in March 2004.

Upon completion of A-State's three-story football facility, improvements to the current strength and conditioning area was the next step.

Enhancements to the structure included connecting it to the football building through complementary architectural design as well as providing services for student-athletes in the classroom through computer labs, study areas and academic support staff.

The area has continued to see renovations and updates with new wall graphics, weights, training equipment and more.

Behind the efforts of Pat Ivey, A-State's Assistant Athletics Director for Athletics Performance, the area is in use to help Red Wolves student-athletes become bigger, stronger and faster.

The A-State strength and conditioning area features over 70 work stations, flooring, flexibility area, power area, speed area, cardiovascular area, training equipment, Olympic weight-lifting platforms, a plyometric training area, air and heating system and training security measures. The weight room equipment includes seven double-sided racks with platforms and benches, eight adjustable auxiliary benches, six glute ham machines, three hammer strength neck machines, three reverse hypers, Plyo-Safe plyometric boxes, dumbbells ranging from 15 lbs. to 150 lbs., 20 yards of turf and mobility hurdles.

Arkansas State University took another step to achieving its goal of a total Performance Enhancement Complex when a gift of $250,000 was presented by Dr. Tim and Terri Langford in September 2004.

The donation matched that of longtime supporters Boe and Myrna Adams, who made an equal contribution to the Performance Enhancement Complex on March 4, 2004.

Because of the Langford's generous gift, the Athletic Training Program located in the Football Facility has been enhanced considerably. The furnished and refurbished training room is now named the Tim and Terri Langford Sports Medicine Center.

In fact, Langford was recently named as one of the Sun Belt Conference's distinguished alums during the league's first 31 years. Langford was also inducted into A-State's Ring of Honor during the 2007 football season.

Langford, a urologist in Little Rock with Arkansas Urologists Associates, played quarterback for A-State from 1980-83 under former head coach Larry Lacewell. His wife, Terri, is a former physical therapist and received part of her physical therapy training at Arkansas State.

The sports medicine department expanded into the former Red Wolves football team locker room. This conversion increased available athletic training work space from 700 square feet to over 2,800 square feet. Other training centers in the Convocation Center, Tomlinson Stadium, Track and Field Complex and Women's Tennis and Soccer facility serve to complement this primary space and provide frontline care for practices and events.

The Tim and Terri Langford Sports Medicine area has undergone recent changes and construction and is in use. The project included new tables, flooring, ceiling, paint and offices.

A-State student-athletes, who already receive great medical care, enjoy plenty of room and quality surroundings.

Larry Lacewell Locker Room. It has a familiar ring to it. In May 2004, A-State's Department of Athletics named the football locker room after one of the school's most beloved former head football coaches and athletic directors - Larry Lacewell. In a star-studded event, sports celebrities and fans came to honor and pay tribute to Lacewell, who has retired from the NFL's Dallas Cowboys organization and made his home in Jonesboro.

The event netted in excess of $60,000. In a surprise move which caught athletic administrators totally off guard, Cowboys owner Jerry Jones announced that the Cowboys' organization would match that number.

Now, the locker room is a nice compliment to the rest of the football complex, a place the players can call their own.

A plaque (left) marks the entrance into the Larry Lacewell Locker Room. The plaque is flanked by the Larry Lacewell Locker Legends Plaque.

Larry Lacewell was A-State's head coach from 1979-89 and still holds the school record for most victories.

The Arkansas State University family mourned the loss of one their all-time greats with the passing May 4, 2014, of Bill Templeton (1934-2014), who spent 53 years as part of the A-State Athletics Department as either a student-athlete, coach or administrator. He leaves a lasting legacy of loyalty and love for his beloved A-State.

"He will be remembered as one of the greatest Indians and Red Wolves who ever lived." - Terry Mohajir, A-State

The Bill Templeton Recruiting Room is used as a relaxation area for players. However, it is also a frequent site for meetings, luncheons, receptions and recruiting activities.

The facade of the football facility lets visitors know right away about two key areas in the building.

The Arkansas State University Athletics Department announced one of the largest single donations in its history, a $400,000 gift from Charles Luter that was used to enhance the athletics' academic facility, at a press conference held at the newly named Charles Luter Family Academic Success Center in September of 2008.

The Academic Success Center serves as a foundation for structure, discipline and organization for the education of all A-State student-athletes. The facility, coupled with innovative programs and equipment, currently houses the academic support staff, tutors, computer labs, a resource room, study areas, tutorial rooms, small group study centers, a large conference room, the compliance office and spring sports coaching offices.

Among the most recent and noticeable modifications to the Charles Luter Family Academic Success Center is a new foyer housed in a brick and rock exterior that, along with new landscaping, gives the entrance to the building a modern look and creates a stronger image. The actual foyer has a large Red Wolves logo embedded in a terrazzo flooring that greets visitors as they enter the building. A receptionist office now also connects to the lobby area, which holds all-new furniture and a plaque recognizing Charles and his wife, Kay.

A restructuring of the academic resource center, now known as Dawson's Den, has occurred, including a wall-wrap celebrating academic success that is clearly visible for student-athletes working in the computer lab. Additionally, tutorial rooms and computer-work stations have been upgraded in this area, which also displays pictures of the most recent A-State graduates. The names of the latest members of the Athletic Director's Honor Roll are also showcased in Dawson's Den. The area is named after Scott and Kay Dawson, longtime supporters of Red Wolves' athletics.

RED WOLVES LEADERSHIP ACADEMY

It is well-known that collegiate athletics departments across the country place a common emphasis on graduation, but Arkansas State has taken it a step further by consistently fulfilling a bold promise of 100 percent job placement for all its graduating student-athletes.

A-State has met its job-placement goal through its newly-developed Red Wolves Leadership Academy, which continues to strengthen with a study abroad component added to foster global awareness which is often cited by employers as a positive attribute they seek.

During summer 2015, Arkansas State student-athletes took part in the first study abroad program offered by any university and their athletics department in the nation. The program goes hand-in-hand with the Red Wolves Leadership Academy, designed with the sole purpose to obtain 100 percent job placement for ALL student-athletes upon graduation.

The Red Wolves took a ground-breaking step by sending the group of student-athletes to London on a faculty-led academic program. For A-State Director of Athletics Terry Mohajir, this is just one of the many ways it all comes back to providing the Red Wolves with the most comprehensive experiences possible to be successful in life.

According to a CNN article (2014), titled "Studying abroad could give you an edge in the job market," only one percent of U.S. college students manage to study abroad. The author can now count these and future Red Wolves among that one percent.

Research conducted by UC Merced backs up what Mohajir and the A-State Athletics Department believes – adding the study abroad component to the Red Wolves Leadership Academy puts its student-athletes among the most desirable employees in the nation coming out of college and helps create global citizens.

The UC Merced research also showed that 97 percent of study abroad students found employment within 12 months of graduation, while only 49 percent of college graduates found employment in the same period. Additionally, statistics revealed study abroad students had a 25 percent higher starting salary than those college graduates who did not study abroad.

Graduate school also falls under the all-encompassing umbrella provided by the Red Wolves Leadership Academy and is included in its goal of 100 percent job placement since it has a significant impact on future employment. According to IES Abroad research ("Recent Graduates Survey: The Impact of Studying Abroad on Recent College Graduates' Careers", 2012), 90 percent of alumni who were accepted into one of their top two choices for graduate or professional school studied abroad.

Being a student-athlete at Arkansas State University is not only what you can accomplish on the field of play or in the classroom. It is also what you can give back to the community.

A-State's football team is an integral part of the community of Jonesboro and the surrounding areas in Northeast Arkansas. The players are involved with local school programs, area charities and many worthwhile projects.

Members of the football team have spent time reaching out to the youth programs and local schools in Northeast Arkansas. The Red Wolves have made visits to hospitals, health centers, food distribution centers and much more.

The team holds an annual Fan Day inwhich they interact with fans and sign autographs as well. They can often be found in the community visiting and signing autographs for young and old fans alike.

Both coaches and players are often seen in the community speaking at special events and representing good causes.

A-State student-athletes give back to not only the local community and Northeast Arkansas, but also reach out to more distant places. During the 2011, 2012, 2013 and 2014 seasons, for instance, members of the football team visited the USA Women's and Children's Hospital (above left) in Mobile, Ala., during part of their time leading up to the GoDaddy Bowl. A-State's 2015 New Orleans Bowl appearance also saw the team visit the Children's Hospital of New Orleans, and the Red Wolves participated in a "Feed the Children" project prior to the Cure Bowl. During the 2005 season, members of the A-State football team visited the Women's and Children's Hospital in Lafayette, La., during part of their time leading up to the New Orleans Bowl. The players also took time to sign autographs and visit with fans young and old alike during all their bowl weeks.

Nothing symbolizes Arkansas State football more than the Ring of Honor. The Ring, which recognizes the greatness of Red Wolves football through the induction of the school's finest players and coaches, is located on the facade of the west side of Centennial Bank Stadium.

The late Calvin Harrell was the Ring's first inductee in 1996.

Following the 2013 season, A-State received votes in both the Associated Press and USA Today Coaches top-25 polls, while also ranking 23rd in the nation in the final CBSSports.com Power Poll. The program has piled up 59 victories over the last seven seasons, which ranks tied for the 25th most in the nation and sixth most among Group of 5 prorams. During that span, A-State also saw players named the Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year (4 times), Defensive Player of the Year, Offensive Player of the Year and Freshman of the Year, while also gaining 97 all-conference selections. The Red Wolves faced Northern Illinois in Mobile in 2012, Kent State in 2013, Ball State in 2014 and Toledo in 2015 at the GoDaddy Bowl. The Red Wolves topped No.25-ranked Kent State 17-13 and Ball State 23-20 for its two GoDaddy Bowl wins. Arkansas State played Louisiana Tech in the 2015 New Orleans Bowl, one year before defeating UCA 31-13 in the 2016 Cure Bowl. Most recently, A-State faced Middle Tennessee in the 2017 Camellia Bowl.

Arkansas State has won the Sun Belt Conference five of the last seven years, most recently claiming the 2016 title with a 7-1 record. A-State also won the 2011-13 and 2015 championships and owns a 46-9 league record since 2011. Arkansas State is one of just two programs to ever win at least five Sun Belt Conference championships. Additionally, it is the only SBC program to ever go 8-0 in league play during multiple seasons (2015 and 2011). Along the same lines, it is just the second all-time Sun Belt program with multiple undefeated seasons in league play (2015 and 2011) -- the other is North Texas (2002-04).

THE 2018 SEASON | INSIDE

Outlook 22-25
Alphabetical Roster 26-27
Numerical Roster 28-29
Red Wolves at a Glance 30

Blake Anderson enters his fifth season as the head coach at Arkansas State and has led the Red Wolves to bowl-game appearances in each season to extend the program's streak to seven. This year's team returns seven starters from an offense that ranked among the top 13 teams in the nation in scoring, total offense and passing offense, while the defense brings back five starters from a squad that ranked among the top 42 teams in the country in 12 statistical categories.

A-State returns seven All-SBC selections from a season ago, including Offensive Player of the Year Justice Hansen at quarterback. Other honorees from a season ago include offensive linemen Lanard Bonner and Jacob Still, defensive lineman Ronheen Bingham, defensive backs Justin Clifton and B.J. Edmonds, wide receivers Justin McInnis and Omar Bayless, kicker Sawyer Williams, and punter Cody Grace.

QUARTERBACK

Hansen returns to lead the A-State quarterback corps after posting a school-record 4,389 yards of total offense in 2017. The Edmond, Okla., native accumulated 3,967 yards through the air (another school record) and also ran for another 422 yards, third most on the team. The senior-to-be was one of only two players in FBS football to pass for 3,900 or more yards and also rush for 400 or more last season. Hansen obliterated the previous school record for touchdown passes of 24 by tossing 37 last season and also ran for seven more to lead the squad. Additionally, the Red Wolves' signal caller became the first in school history to average more than 300 yards passing per game with 330.6 per contest last fall. Hansen enters the 2018 season ranked second all-time at A-State in passing touchdowns (56) and fourth in completions (502), passing yards (6,686) and total offense (7,239). The 2017 Sun Belt Conference Offensive Player of the Year led the nation last season in points responsible for per game (22.2).Hansen leads a group of four quarterbacks along with redshirt sophomore Logan Bonner, redshirt junior Carson Coats and redshirt junior Ross Trail. A native of Rowlett, Texas, Bonner served as Hansen's backup last season and saw action in four contests with nine completions and his first career touchdown. Coats is going on his fourth year of experience in the offensive system, while Trail has transferred in from Cincinnati.

RUNNING BACK

Warren Wand, the team's leading rusher last fall, returns to headline A-State's group of running backs. Wand, already tabbed the Most Elusive RB in the Sun Belt by Street and Smith's, figures to play a key role at the position alongside junior Jamal Jones and senior Armond Weh-Weh. A senior-to-be, Wand rushed for 715 yards last season, hauled in another 145 yards through the air, and scored seven times (six rushing, one receiving). Wand also had an 82-yard touchdown scamper versus ULM to account for the fifth longest run in school history. An impressive list of candidates are vying for playing time behind Wand and to fill the void left by Johnston White. Jones ran for 197 yards last season before an injury cost him the last few games of the season, while Weh-Weh was impressive in spring ball after missing almost all of last season.

JUSTICE HANSEN, SR. QB

WIDE RECEIVER

A-State returns three of its top six receivers from a season ago with 2017 All-SBC Third-Team selection Justin McInnis leading the way. A native of Pierrefonds, Quebec, McInnis led the team with 800 yards receiving and was second with 49 receptions. Redshirt junior Omar Bayless, an Honorable Mention All-SBC honoree a season ago, and redshirt senior Kendrick Edwards also return after hauling in 32 and 38 receptions, respectively. A native of Laurel, Miss., Bayless caught six touchdown passes, tied for third most on the team. On the outside, the team will have to replace Dijon Paschal, but Dahu Green, a 6-5 transfer from Oklahoma, has all the physical attributes to play right away, while Jonathan Adams, Jr., who caught eight passes and one touchdown a season ago as a true freshman, will also factor into the mix. Bubba Ogbebor, a transfer from Boise State, will be ready to go this fall after sitting out and can play inside or outside. The Red Wolves said goodbye to seniors Chris Murray and Christian Booker in the slot, or A-Back position. The pair of 2017 seniors combined to catch 75 passes for 1,060 yards and 15 touchdowns, with Murray's nine leading the squad. Redshirt junior Darveon Brown is returns having played snaps at the position, but has yet to catch a pass. Newcomer Kirk Merritt, who helped East Mississippi Community College to an 11-1 record and National Championship at the JUCO level, will be in the mix for snaps, while Ogbebor and redshirt sophomore Brandon Bowling will compete for playing time in the slot as well.

TIGHT END

The team has big shoes to fill at tight end with Blake Mack, now with the Kansas City Chiefs, gone after he hauled in 48 passes and seven scores a season ago. Jonah Hill, used primarily as a blocker, has also graduated , leaving Javonis Isaac as the lone player with game experience from last season at the position. Isaac impressed in his limited playing time as a blocker and has the skillset to be a pass-catching threat. Junior college transfer Ross Painter and true freshman Reed Tyler both went through spring camp with the Red Wolves, along with senior Jimmie Jackson.

OFFENSIVE LINE

A-State had to replace all five starters on the offensive line prior to last season, but returns four starters and a number of other players that saw playing time with the biggest loss being Jaypee Philbert, who was a member of the 2017 All-SBC Third Team offense. The line is anchored by 2017 First-Team All-SBC selection Lanard Bonner at tackle and he has already earned preseason accolades from Street and Smith's, Lindy's, and Athlon's. Center Jacob Still returns for his redshirt sophomore season and earned honorable mention honors from the league for his efforts last year, while junior Troy Elliott and redshirt junior Dalton Ford return after starting every game in 2017. Redshirt junior Cameron Davis, redshirt freshman Jacob Atnip could also factor into the mix. Nour-Eddine Seidnaly was expected to contribute last season, but an injury sidelined him all year. Now healthy, Seidnaly will compete for playing time. Senior Marvis Brown, who checks in with the second highest weight on the line at 339 pounds, played some quality snaps a season ago and will push for more playing time along with a strong group of redshirt freshmen in Andre Harris, Jr., Justin Dutton, and Jennings Stanley. Jhamahl Bell, Klint Harvey, and Chase Johnson are other returners that should provide solid depth, while the batch of newcomers features Jax Gasaway and Christion Hoz.

DEFENSIVE LINE

The Red Wolves defensive line loses Sun Belt Conference Defensive Player of the Year Ja'Von Rolland-Jones, along with Dee Liner and Caleb Caston, but a solid group of reinforcements are in place for the 2018 season as the team looks to continue a strong tradition of strength at the position. Hunter Moreton, who started as a true freshman, is back to man the nose guard position and recorded 5.5 tackles-for-loss with two sacks last season. Senior Ronheen Bingham returns to play one of the end positions, where he saw lots of action last season. Bingham, a 2017 Second-Team All-Sun Belt honoree, has already been named Preseason All-SBC by three publications and looks to build on the five sacks, tied for second most on the team, he registered a year ago. Seniors Christian Howard, Donovan Ransom and Tony Adams, along with redshirt junior Javier Carbonell all saw time at defensive tackle last season to make it one of the deepest positions on the team. The coaching staff is also high on Kevin Thurmon, who redshirted last season after transferring from Ball State, and expect him to be in the mix for playing time. Junior college transfers Tukua Ahoia and Thomas Toki will provide solid depth and could factor into the rotation. Seniors Griffin Riggs, Dajon Emory, and Jarrod Chandler return along with Bingham as defensive ends. All three players saw action last season with Chandler mostly serving as a pass-rush specialist. Redshirt sophomore William Bradley-King has a very high ceiling and flashed at times last season, while redshirt junior T.J. Harris and junior college transfer Noel Iwuchukwu round out the list of talented players that could all see time on the edge.

LINEBACKER

Kyle Wilson was the only linebacker on the 2017 team that started every game, but is gone after earning Second Team All-Sun Belt Conference honors and signing a free agent contract with the Philadelphia Eagles. A-State returns three players at the position who all started at least one game a year ago, including junior junior Trent Ellis-Brewer and sophomores Tajhea Chambers and Caleb Bonner. Ellis-Brewer and Chambers both had their season cut short due to injury, but still gained significant snaps, and Ellis-Brewer even finished with career-best numbers for tackles (35) despite missing the final two games of the year. Bonner was called on to start five games during his true freshman season and recorded 19 tackles. Senior Antwon Turnage and Kirk Louis also return after gaining significant experience a year ago. Turnage had a big game in the Red Wolves' victory over Georgia Southern, finishing with a career-high nine tackles. Redshirt junior Kevin Powers is also expected to factor into the mix this season and other players could emerge.

RONHEEN BINGHAM, SR. DE

SECONDARY

While Arkansas State lost its three starting cornerbacks from a year ago in Blaise Taylor, Nehemiah Wagner and Kyle Martin, it returns a wealth of talent in the secondary. The group is headlined by senior nickelback Justin Clifton, who was a Second Team All-Sun Belt Conference selection in 2018 and is one of just 17 NCAA FBS players this decade (2000-17) to compile career numbers featuring at least 179 tackles, 18 tackles for loss and 19 pass break-ups. The Red Wolves return all their starters at the safety position, including Honorable Mention All-Sun Belt Conference choice B.J. Edmonds. The junior was one of just 19 players in the nation last season to record at least 80 tackles, four pass break-ups and three interceptions. The versatile Darreon Jackson, who can play nickel, linebacker or safety, completed his first season with the Red Wolves in 2017 with 58 tackles, 4.0 tackles for loss, a sack and two pass break-ups. Fellow safeties Michael Johnson and Jefferie Gibson combined for 69 tackles, three interceptions and two fumble recoveries in 2017. The cornerback position got a big lift when senior Brandon Byner, who has seen action in 34 career games was awarded a sixth year of eligibility. Junior Jeremy Smith also returns at experience at cornerback and is expected to be a leader at the position. Other returning players such as Jamari Gamble, Logan Wescott and Demari Medley, along with newcomers Triston Anderson, Jevon Jones, Nathan Page, Derrick Bean, Antonio Fletcher, Detravion Green and Jaden Harris give A-State plenty of talent in the secondary.

SPECIAL TEAMS

A-State lost one of the greatest return specialists in school history in Blaise Taylor, who completed his career as the Red Wolves' all-time leader in punt return yards. While there are a number of question marks in the return game, A-State brings back All-Sun Belt Conference kicker Sawyer Williams and Ray Guy Award semifinalist Cody Grace at punter. Williams, a junior, led the Sun Belt in scoring among all players last season with 96 points and averaged 8.0 points by kicking per game to rank tied for 23rd in the nation in the stat. Grace, also a junior, didn't allow a touchback last season and saw 45 of his 49 punts go unreturned for a .918 percentage, helping him compile a 40.9 net punting average that ranked 16th in the country.

Blake Anderson, a 17-year coaching veteran at the NCAA FBS level who also coached in an NJCAA National Championship game, was named the Red Wolves' 30th all-time head football coach on Dec. 19, 2013.

Anderson led A-State to four consecutive winning seasons, four straight bowl game appearances (2017 Camellia Bowl, 2016 Cure Bowl, 2015 New Orleans Bowl and 2014 GoDaddy Bowl) and back-to-back Sun Belt Conference championships in 2015 and 2016 his initial four seasons at the helm. During that time, the Red Wolves also broke nine school records for average yards total offense (494.8 yards per game in 2017), first downs (322 in 2017), first downs passing (190 in 2017), passing yards (4,106 in 2017), passing touchdowns (38 in 2017), points scored (520 in 2015), touchdowns scored (69 in 2015), total offense (6,174 yards in 2014) and total plays (1,024 in 2014).

Out of 30 all-time head coaches, Anderson became just the fourth to win at least seven games in his first season at A-State. Now with 31 career victories leading the Red Wolves, he is the first head coach in A-State history to win more than 22 games his first four seasons at the school. Additionally, Anderson is just the third head coach at A-State to direct the program to 31 wins in 51 or fewer games -- Bennie Ellender reached 31 victories in 50 games from 1963-68, as did Bill Davidson from 1971-75.

A-State won the league title for the second consecutive year under Anderson in 2016 with a 7-1 record, making it the only program in the nation at the time to win five conference titles over the previous six seasons. The Red Wolves won the 2015 league championship with an unblemished 8-0 record, in the process becoming the only SBC program to ever go 8-0 in league play during multiple seasons (2015 and 2011).

The Red Wolves have won at least seven games every season under Anderson, including a 9-victory campaign in 2015 and eight-win year in 2016. A-State has also compiled a 26-6 (.813 winning percentage) Sun Belt Conference record under Anderson's watch, and its average margin of victory in those 26 wins is 22.9 points.

Including all seven A-State wins in 2017, 29 of the Red Wolves' 31 victories under Anderson have come by 10 or more points. The only exceptions were a 21-14 overtime win against Utah State in 2014 and a 27-26 victory over Georgia Southern in 2016.

Each of Anderson's first four squads ranked among the top 45 teams in the nation in at least 23 combined offensive, defensive and special teams categories, including 2016 when the Red Wolves led the nation in tackles for loss (9.6 per game) and 2015 when they ranked No. 1 in both defensive touchdowns (8) and passes intercepted (26).

Along the way, he saw 11 of his players earn All-Sun Belt recognition in 2014, followed by 16 in both 2015 and 2016 and, most recently, a school-record 18 in 2017. All four seasons combined, Anderson has coached 41 different players to 64 all-conference selections -- the most in the league over that span.

Anderson has led the Red Wolves to an 18-5 home record, which includes a 2014 overtime win over a Utah State team that won 10 games and received votes in the final Associated Press Top-25 Poll. A-State has also compiled a 12-4 Sun Belt road record, including a 35-3 victory over then-ranked No. 25 Troy in 2016 for the Red Wolves first road win over a top-25 team since joining the FBS in 1992.

Upon his arrival at A-State, Anderson assembled a well-respected coaching staff and began working to put together his first recruiting class in an abbreviated time period. Not only did he sign the Sun Belt's No. 1 ranked class by Rivals.com, all five of his recruiting classes have ranked among the top three teams in the league by at least two of the major recruiting services.

Before joining A-State, Anderson worked on head coach Larry Fedora's staff as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at both North Carolina and Southern Miss the previous four seasons. His dynamic offense helped lead the two programs to 34 victories, three bowl game appearances and two conference or divisional titles. Along the way, his potent offense was responsible for breaking both schools' total offense records while also ranking among the most productive teams in the nation.

The Hubbard, Texas, native came to A-State after spending the previous two seasons as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at North Carolina, where he helped lead the Tar Heels to an Atlantic Coast Conference Coastal Division title in 2012 and the Belk Bowl in 2013. Under Anderson's direction, North Carolina averaged 432.4 total yards per game in 2013 after setting the school record the previous year with 485.6 yards per contest. Prior to his arrival in Chapel Hill, the Tar Heels had not averaged 400 yards in a season since 1993.

North Carolina's offense posted more than 500 yards of total offense seven times during Anderson's two seasons at the school, including a school-record 721 versus Old Dominion his last season, and scored 40 or more points in nine games. The Tar Heels averaged 44.2 points per game at Kenan Stadium (14 games) and 25.4 on the road (10 games) with Anderson as their offensive coordinator.

Anderson led a passing offense during the 2013 season ranked 23rd in the nation, averaging 286.3 yards per game. North Carolina posted 27 passing touchdowns, which were the second most in school history and just two behind the 29 recorded in 2012. The Tar Heels ranked among the top 44 teams in the nation in total offense, completion percentage, passing offense, red zone offense, scoring offense, passing efficiency, fourth down conversions and turnovers lost in 2013.

North Carolina's offensive success was just a continuation from Anderson's initial season, which saw the Tar Heels establish more than 35 school records. The Tar Heels finished eighth in the country in scoring, averaging 40.6 points per game, and were 14th nationally with 485.6 yards per game. Their passing attack was 26th nationally with 291.8 yards per contest, and the Tar Heels also rushed for 193.8 yards per game, their highest average since 1994.

Individuals excelled in Anderson's system at every position. During his time at the school, six offensive players received All-ACC recognition, including First Team All-America selection Eric Ebron at tight end. As quarterbacks coach, Anderson tutored standouts Bryn Renner and Marquise Williams. Renner set the single-season school record for touchdowns passes with 28 in 2012, while Williams provided a spark to the UNC offense in 2013 with his mobility outside the pocket. Williams finished the regular season with 1,058 yards of total offense in the last three games alone, which was the most in any three-game stretch in Tar Heels history. He was also the first quarterback to lead North Carolina in rushing since 1968.

Anderson went to Chapel Hill after a record-setting run as Southern Miss' offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. The Golden Eagles set school records for total offense in each of Anderson's last two years. He was part of a Southern Miss staff under Fedora that won a school-record 12 games in 2012, including the Conference USA championship over previously unbeaten Houston and the Hawaii Bowl over Nevada.

Anderson spent his first two seasons as USM's quarterbacks coach and run game coordinator and developed Austin Davis into one of the nation's top signal callers. Davis broke nearly every school record in an outstanding four-year career.

Under the eye of Anderson, the Golden Eagles were one of 14 teams in the country that averaged more than 200 yards per game in both rushing and passing in 2011. The Golden Eagles had nearly 6,500 yards of total offense and set a school record with 461.4 yards per game. In addition, USM was 15th nationally in scoring offense, 16th in total offense and 21st in rushing offense. Anderson's offense posted 30-or-more points in 10 of 14 games in 2011, including a season-high 63 in a win over Navy.

In 2010, Southern Miss was 18th in total offense, 20th in rushing offense and 35th in passing offense. The Golden Eagles also averaged 36.9 points per game to rank 15th in the nation. That season, Anderson's quarterbacks were among the most efficient in the nation with only eight interceptions thrown – including one by a wide receiver – to 24 touchdowns. Davis accounted for 10 of the team's 28 rushing touchdowns, more than any other back.

In his first year in Hattiesburg in 2008, Anderson mentored then redshirt freshman and first-year starter Davis, who responded by having the best season ever for a freshman QB at the school, while also putting together one of the better years that any signal caller has had at the university.

Davis, who was the first freshman to start in his opening game since 1991, notched 15 school records, including six season marks – passing yards (3,128), completions (261), attempts (454), total offense (3,636) and touchdowns responsible for (30).

Anderson came to Southern Miss after spending the 2007 campaign at Louisiana-Lafayette as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. The Ragin' Cajuns posted the No. 6-rated rushing offense nationally (251.6) in 2007 and became the Sun Belt's first ever 3,000-yard rushing team (3,019).

Anderson, who was in private business from 2004-06, previously worked at Middle Tennessee, where he helped direct an offensive unit as co-offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach from 2002-04.

He spent three seasons at New Mexico before landing at MTSU. He served as the wide receivers coach in 2001 and running backs coach from 1999-2000. The UNM rushing attack was responsible for a major share of the Lobo offense in 2000. The Lobos averaged 148 yards per game on the ground, which accounted for 56 percent of the team's total offense.

Anderson worked at Trinity Valley Community College (1995-98) before joining the Division I FBS ranks at New Mexico. In 1998, he was the offensive coordinator and the Cardinals went 7-3. He helped lead the Cardinals to the 1997 NJCAA National Championship.

He began his coaching career at Eastern New Mexico in 1992 (graduate assistant) and 1993 (full-time), where he tutored the wide receivers. He then moved on to Howard Payne University in Brownwood, Texas, to coach wide receivers in 1994. HPU won the Texas IAA conference title.

A two-year letterwinner at wide receiver for Sam Houston State from 1989-91, Anderson was named Southland Conference All-Academic as a senior. He also played for two years as a quarterback and receiver at Baylor (1987-89) before transferring. Anderson graduated with his bachelor's degree in kinesiology from Sam Houston State in 1992. He also attained his master's degree in sports administration from Eastern New Mexico in 1994. Anderson and his wife Wendy have one daughter, Callie, and two sons, Coleton and Cason.

Blake Anderson was named Arkansas State's 30th head coach Dec. 19, 2013.

TROOPER TAYLOR

Assistant Head Coach • Cornerbacks
5th Year • Baylor, 1992

Trooper Taylor, a 25-year coaching veteran at the NCAA FBS level who helped lead Auburn to a 2011 BCS National Championship, is in his fifth year as Arkansas State's cornerbacks coach and begins his third with the Red Wolves since being elevated to the position of assistant head coach.

Taylor's first four seasons at A-State saw him help lead the Red Wolves to 31 victories, a bowl game appearance each year and back-to-back Sun Belt Conference championships in 2015 and 2016.

Taylor has been a part of 13 bowl games during his career, which includes stops at Baylor, New Mexico, Tulane, Tennessee, Oklahoma State and Auburn in addition to Arkansas State.

With Taylor on the sidelines, the Red Wolves played in the GoDaddy Bowl to conclude a 7-6 season in 2014. The 2015 squad participated in the New Orleans Bowl, capping a nine-win campaign and undefeated run in the Sun Belt. Taylor helped the Red Wolves rebound from an 0-4 start in 2016 to post an 8-5 record, win a Sun Belt title and defeat UCF 31-13 in the Cure Bowl. Most recently in 2017, the Red Wolves won at least seven games for the fourth straight year and made their first trip to the Camellia Bowl.

Taylor's 2017 cornerbacks unit was anchored by his son, Blaise, who established himself from 2014-17 as one of the premier, most distinguished and highly decorated student-athletes in the history of Arkansas State, the Sun Belt Conference and the NCAA. The younger Taylor's time at A-State culminated in 2017 as he played out his senior season, eventually being named the Arthur Ashe Jr. Male Sports Scholar of the Year, a Wuerffel Trophy finalist, National Football Foundation (NFF) All-American Scholar and prestigious Campbell Trophy finalist. Blaise also completed his career as the Sun Belt Conference's all-time leader in career passes defended.

Blaise was named First Team All-Sun Belt Conference in 2017 after completing his career as the league's all-time leader in career passes defended, and the Taylor-coached corners helped A-State rank among the top 42 teams in the nation in 4th down conversion percentage defense (No. 9), 3rd down percentage defense (No. 21), defensive touchdowns (No. 21), turnovers gained (No. 29), passes intercepted (No. 32), first downs defense (No. 32), team passing efficiency defense (No. 40) and red zone defense (No. 42).

The 2016 season also saw Taylor coach Chris Humes, who went on to sign a free agent contract with the Los Angeles Raiders, through a transition from safety to cornerback his final year with the Red Wolves. Blaise and Humes combined for 81 tackles, 7.0 tackles for loss, four interceptions, 15 pass break-ups, three fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles. Taylor's unit was key in A-State ranking among the top 25 teams in the nation in tackles for loss (No. 1), defensive touchdowns (No. 8), scoring defense (No. 19), team pass efficiency defense (No. 23) and fumbles recovered (No. 24).

His cornerbacks were responsible for nine interceptions and 20 pass break-ups during the 2015 season that saw the Red Wolves' defense rank first in the nation in both interceptions (26) and defensive touchdowns (8), second in turnovers gained (34) and 21st in pass completion percentage defense. He tutored senior corner Rocky Hayes, who was named First Team All-Sun Belt Conference after recording six interceptions that tied the second most in the league.

Taylor's 2014 position group was part of A-State's defense that ranked No. 14 in the nation in defensive touchdowns (4), No. 15 in passes intercepted (16), No. 17 in team sacks (2.85 per game), No. 21 in turnovers gained (28), No. 27 in third down percentage defense (.359), No. 28 in fumbles recovered (12), No. 36 in fourth down percentage defense (.435) and team tackles for loss (6.6 per game), No. 42 in red zone defense (.795), No. 44 in passing yards allowed (216.0 ypg) and No. 45 in team passing efficiency defense (122.26). Additionally, A-State's 28 turnovers gained were its third most ever as an FBS member.

Under Taylor's direction, seniors Artez Brown and Andrew Tryon enjoyed the best seasons of their career in 2014 and earned first team and honorable mention All-Sun Belt Conference honors, respectively. Brown was responsible for four interceptions, which tied the most on the team, to go along with 26 tackles and five pass break-ups. Tryon posted career-best numbers for tackles (71), tackles for loss (5.5), interceptions (2) and pass break-ups (9).

As a group, A-State's cornerbacks were responsible for 137 tackles, seven interceptions, 19 pass break-ups and three fumble recoveries, including a 93-yard return for touchdown by Rocky Hayes that was the longest fumble return in school history.

Considered one of the nation's top recruiters, Taylor helped A-State secure five consecutive signing classes from 2014 to 2018 that were ranked among the top three in the Sun Belt Conference by at least two of the major recruiting services.

Taylor came to A-State after serving as the Auburn's assistant head coach and wide receivers coach from 2009-12.

In Auburn's 2010 national championship season, Taylor's receiver corps produced in all phases, making impact catches and providing hard-nosed blocking for the Tigers' conference-best rushing attack.

Auburn receivers connected on 45 plays of 20 yards or more, including five plays of 60 yards or more, as the Tigers set a school record for points (577) and led the Southeastern Conference averaging 41.2 points per game. The Tigers had three receivers total 500 yards or more and as a unit averaged 16.9 yards per catch, hauling in 2,461 of Auburn's total 3,002 total passing yards.

He helped lead the Tigers to a 43-24 Chick-Fil-A Bowl victory over Virginia and a No. 25 BCS ranking in 2011. Receiver Emory Blake was responsible for six receptions for 108 yards in the bowl-game victory that gave the Tigers their eighth win of the year.

During his first season, he helped the Auburn offense emerge as one of the nation's finest, while also solidifying his reputation as a top-notch recruiter. The Auburn offense set numerous school records during the 2009 season, including points in a season (433), most total yards of offense in a season (5,613) and most plays in a season (914).

Taylor coached Darvin Adams, who broke the Auburn single-season record for receptions with 60 for 997 yards and ranked second in the SEC with 10 touchdown catches. Adams, who entered the season with just three career catches for 18 yards, was named the MVP of the Outback Bowl after hauling in career highs of 12 receptions for 142 yards.

In addition to his coaching duties on the field, Taylor was also instrumental in helping Auburn bring in some of the most highly regarded recruiting classes in the nation as the Tigers' 2010, 2011 and 2012 recruiting classes were ranked fourth, third and 17th, respectively, by ESPN.com.

Auburn signed a consensus top-five recruiting class in 2010, when Taylor was named to Rivals.com's its list of the top-25 recruiters in the nation and one of the top 10 recruiters in the SEC. It marked the third time he was named to the top-25 list by Rivals.com, having previously earned the recognition in 2005 and 2007.

In 2008, his only season at Oklahoma State, Taylor helped the Cowboys' offense produce two first-team All-Americans in wide receiver Dez Bryant and running back Kendall Hunter. A Biletnikoff Award finalist, first-team All-Big 12 selection and academic all-conference member, Bryant led the Big 12 in receiving and was third nationally.

With Taylor working as co-offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach, the Cowboys played in the 2008 Holiday Bowl and ranked sixth in the nation in total offense (487.7 ypg), eighth in rushing offense (245.46 ypg), ninth in scoring offense (40.7 ppg) and 38th in passing offense (242.23 ypg).

Prior to OSU, Taylor served as Tennessee's assistant head coach from 2004-07, coaching wide receivers his last two seasons after serving as the running backs coach from 2004-05. While a member of the Tennessee staff, he helped lead the Volunteers to the 2005 Cotton Bowl and 2007 and 2008 Outback Bowl. The Vols posted a pair of 10-win seasons, claimed 34 total victories and finished ranked among the top-25 teams in the nation three times during Taylor's time with the program.

His first season as running backs coach, Tennessee ranked 24th in the nation in rushing yards (186.0 ypg) with Gerald Riggs Jr. leading the team individually with 85.2 yards per game to rank 47th in the country. Riggs and fellow running back Cedric Houston became UT's first pair of 1,000-yard rushers in the same season in 2004. His second season, he tutored now NFL All-Pro running back Arian Foster.

Following his move wide receivers coach, the Volunteers ranked 12th in the nation in passing yards with 264.5 yards per game in 2006. Under Taylor's direction, Robert Meachem was a first-round NFL draft pick after ranking fourth in the nation in receiving yards (99.9 ypg) to earn All-America recognition. The 2007 Tennessee team ranked No. 35 in the nation in passing yards (262.5 ypg), while Lucas Taylor ranked among the top 44 players in the NCAA FBS in both receptions and receiving yards.

Taylor went to Knoxville after coaching receivers at Tulane from 1999-2003. He coached four wide-outs into the NFL during his tenure in New Orleans, including Adrian Burnette, Kerwin Cook and Terrell Harris. The fourth future NFL player under his tutelage at Tulane was Roydell Williams, who went on to set school and Conference USA career records for touchdown catches with 35.

Prior to Tulane, he was the running backs coach at New Mexico in 1998 after a five year stint on the coaching staff at Baylor, his alma mater. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant coach at Baylor in 1992, then spent the 1994-97 seasons as the Bears' wide receivers coach (1994, 1997) and secondary coach (1995-96). He helped lead Baylor to the Alamo Bowl in 1994.

Taylor played defensive back at Baylor from 1988-91 and finished his playing career as the school's leader in kickoff returns (53) and return yardage (1,063), while also helping the Bears to the Copper Bowl his senior campaign. He earned his bachelor's degree in communications from Baylor University in 1992.

The Cuero, Texas, native is married to the former Evi Crosby of Harbor City, Calif. He and his wife, who was a track and field scholarship student-athlete at Baylor, have one daughter, Starr, and a son, Blaise.

JOE CAUTHEN

Defensive Coordinator • Linebackers • 5th Year
Stephen F. Austin, 1990

Joe Cauthen is in his fifth season as the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for Arkansas State.

Cauthen has 28 years coaching experience, including 22 at the collegiate level. He not only implemented an aggressive and attacking style in his first four seasons at A-State, but also transformed the Red Wolves into one of the most opportunistic defenses in the nation with a focus on creating turnovers.

Under Cauthen's direction, the Red Wolves have ranked among the top 21 teams in the nation each of the last four seasons in defensive touchdowns with 19 total over that span. The 2015 campaign saw A-State's defense record an FBS-high eight touchdowns, while also leading the country in interceptions with a school FBS-era-record 26.

Not only did A-State's defense rank 21st in the country in defensive touchdowns in 2017, the Red Wolves' also finished among the top teams in the country in tackles for loss (No. 6), 4th down conversion percentage defense (No. 9), sacks (No. 19), 3rd down conversion percentage defense (No. 21), fumbles recovered (No. 27), turnovers gained (No. 29), passes intercepted (No. 32), 1st downs defense (No. 32), rushing defense (No. 33), team passing efficiency defense (No. 40) and red zone defense (No. 42).

Arkansas State's defense helped the team reach a bowl game, the Camellia Bowl, for a school-record seventh consecutive season and saw eight players named All-Sun Belt Conference, including linebacker Kyle Wilson, who went on to sign a free agent contract with the NFL's Philadelphia Eagles. Defensive end Ja'Von Rolland-Jones finished his career in 2017 as the NCAA's second all-time leader in career sacks, and he was tabbed the league's Conference Player of the Year for the second consecutive season before going on to sign a free agent deal with the Cincinnati Bengals.

Cauthen's 2016 unit helped A-State collect a second consecutive Sun Belt Conference title while leading the nation in tackles for loss with 9.6 per game. Not far behind, A-State ranked No. 6 in sacks (3.31 per game).

That kind of production led to A-State placing two defensive ends on the First Team All-Sun Belt Conference squad, including Rolland-Jones. Just the second defensive player to ever earn the league's highest honor, Rolland-Jones broke the school and Sun Belt Conference records for career sacks during the season. Fellow defensive end Chris Odom finished the year with 12.5 sacks and signed a free agent contract with the Atlanta Falcons.

Rolland-Jones and Odom were among nine defensive players named All-Sun Belt in 2016, helping the Red Wolves rank No. 4 in the nation in fourth down conversion percentage defense (.250), No. 8 in defensive touchdowns (4), No. 19 in scoring defense (21.5), No. 23 in pass efficiency defense (117.25), No. 24 in fumbles recovered (11) and No. 29 in total defense (362.8).

Cauthen's defensive unit finished the 2015 season ranked second in the country in turnovers gained (34), 11th in fourth-down conversion percentage defense (.333), 19th in third-down conversion defense (.335), 41st in sacks (2.38 pg) and 44th in rushing defense (151.5 ypg). The Cauthen-led defense played a vital role in A-State's undefeated run to a Sun Belt Conference championship and appearance in the New Orleans Bowl.

This was all one year after the Red Wolves ranked No. 14 in the nation in defensive touchdowns (4), No. 15 in passes intercepted (16), No. 17 in team sacks (2.85 per game), No. 21 in turnovers gained (28), No. 27 in third down percentage defense (.359), No. 28 in fumbles recovered (12), No. 36 in fourth down percentage defense (.435) and team tackles for loss (6.6 per game), No. 42 in red zone defense (.795), No. 44 in passing yards allowed (216.0 ypg) and No. 45 in team passing efficiency defense (122.26). Those results helped lead A-State to the GoDaddy Bowl for an unprecedented fourth consecutive year.

Cauthen's aggressive style has led to a combined 146 sacks that are the program's most over any four-year span since moving to FBS status in 1992. The Red Wolves also posted at least 86 tackles for loss each of the last four seasons, achieving the feat for the first time in school history.

Cauthen's defense produced six All-Sun Belt Conference performers in 2014, including first team linebacker Qushaun Lee, and seven more in 2015. The Cauthen-coached Lee posted a team-high 110 tackles and career-best four interceptions during his senior season to conclude his career as the Sun Belt Conference's second all-time leader in tackles. Among A-State's 2015 all-league selections were linebackers Xavier Woodson-Luster and Khari Lain, who were the top two leading tacklers on the squad. The Red Wolves' 2016 all-conference picks included linebackers Woodson-Luster and Wilson, who was named to the All-Newcomer Team.

Prior to A-State, Cauthen most recently spent the previous three seasons as an assistant coach at Middle Tennessee. Cauthen served as the Blue Raiders' defensive line coach in 2012 and 2013 after working as the linebackers coach in 2011. He was also the special teams coordinator all three years he spent at MTSU.

The Blue Raiders put together back-to-back eight win seasons Cauthen's last two years at the school and played in the Armed Forces Bowl in 2013. He tutored a pair of all-conference players during his time as defensive line coach, including Jimmy Staten in 2013 and Omar McLendon in 2012.

MTSU proved to be an opportunistic defense in 2013 with Cauthen a part of the coaching staff as the Blue Raiders ranked fifth in the nation in turnovers gained with 33, including 15 interceptions and 18 fumble recoveries. MTSU also ranked 17th nationally in red zone defense (.755) and 19th nationally in passing defense (203.4 ypg). His defensive line also helped the team rack up 67 tackles for loss and 27 sacks.

In his first year guiding the defensive line, Cauthen molded a young group that showed marked improvement from 2011. McLendon earned all-conference honors while Kendall Dangerfield and Staten enjoyed career years.

Cauthen made his way to Middle Tennessee after spending the previous four seasons at Valdosta State as the Blazers defensive coordinator. In 2010, Cauthen helped lead Valdosta State to a Gulf South Conference Championship after his defense finished ranked 23rd nationally in total defense and 18th in scoring defense. His unit was led by All-American (both coaches and SIDs) and National Defensive Player of the Year Larry Dean. Dean, who had 122 tackles, became the first player in school history to earn the player of the year award.

Cauthen molded a solid group in 2009 despite losing seven starters off the 2008 squad and seeing two more suffer season-ending injuries over the course of the first three games. Under his direction, the Blazers still managed to register 68 TFLs, 18 sacks, and force 19 turnovers while giving up just 112.9 yards per game on the ground.

Cauthen's defense was dominant during the 2008 season as it finished 31st nationally in total defense and 24th in scoring defense. The Blazers allowed opponents just 304.6 yards per game during his second season with the school while surrendering just 18.6 points per outing. On the rushing side, the Blazers only allowed 108.3 yards per game to rank 31st in the nation while opponents found throwing the ball even tougher as they were held to a 104.91 efficiency rating, a number that ranked VSU 20th nationally. In 2007, Cauthen directed a unit that finished 14th in the nation in scoring defense at 17.6 points per game as VSU won its second national title. Cauthen's knowledge of the defensive side of the ball was no more evident than in the 2007 NCAA Championship game, where his scheme held Northwest Missouri State running back Xavier Omon, who had averaged 236 yards a game in three previous playoff contests, to just 63 yards on 27 carries, an average of 2.3 yards per carry.

Cauthen's aggressive, ball-hawking defensive approach helped VSU lead the nation in passes intercepted with 27 in 2007 while finishing second in turnovers gained with 40. Additionally, Valdosta State was 25th in passing efficiency defense (105.9) and 33rd in rushing defense (120.9 yards per game).

Cauthen's ability to teach the game of football helped several Blazers earn individual honors during his tenure. He had two players earn three All-America honors, five named all-region, and 13 make all-conference. Cauthen's tutelage also helped Sherard Reynolds earn GSC All-Decade Team honors after the 2009 season, the only VSU defensive player to earn first team honors on that list.

Cauthen joined the Blazers after eight seasons with Texas A&M-Commerce, during which the Lions consistently ranked among the top defenses in the nation. A&M-Commerce led the Lone Star Conference and was ranked 23rd nationally in total defense in 2006 as the Lions compiled a 5-5 mark. Cauthen's defense surrendered just 258.3 yards per game, including 95.3 on the ground and 163.0 through the air. The Lions allowed just 15.1 points per game, 19th-best nationally, and were 24th in rushing defense.

The Lions were equally as impressive in 2005 as they again led the Lone Star Conference in total defense (318.9 yards a game), rushing defense (127.4 yards per game) and scoring defense (18.3 points an outing). A&M-Commerce was 47th nationally in total defense and 42nd in rushing defense while finishing 22nd in scoring defense. Additionally, under Cauthen's leadership, Lion linebacker J.D. Hearn led the nation in tackles in 2005 and earned eight national post-season awards.

During his seven seasons with the Lions, Cauthen coached six All-Americans, four Lone Star Conference linebackers of the year, three defensive lineman of the year, a defensive back of the year and 34 defensive players that earned All-Lone Star Conference at least once during their career.

Cauthen spent little time in establishing his mark on the Texas A&M-Commerce defense as in just his third year he directed a defense that ranked second in the league in total defense, first against the run, second against the pass and third in scoring defense. Two years later, his 2003 defense was fourth in the 15-team league and 41st nationally in total defense.

Cauthen joined the Lion staff in 1999 after two seasons at I-AA (now FCS) Stephen F. Austin. He began his tenure with SFA as a restricted earnings coach in 1997 before becoming full-time in 1998. He worked with the defensive line during his two seasons and aided the Lumberjacks to an 11-11 overall record. Cauthen's line was instrumental in Stephen F. Austin finishing the 1997 season ranked 21st in the nation in the final national poll.

Prior to Stephen F. Austin, Cauthen spent a season as defensive line coach at Trinity Valley Community College in Athens, Texas. He also worked with the special teams unit at TVCC and served as the school's strength and conditioning coach. He began his coaching career at Sherman High School in Sherman, Texas during the 1990 season and worked with the school for five seasons. In addition to teaching biology for the school, Cauthen worked with the freshman team his first year and as an assistant for the varsity squad from 1992 through 1995. Additionally, he served as an assistant for the school's baseball, power lifting and basketball programs. Cauthen's coaching was instrumental in leading both Trinity Valley and Sherman to post-season berths during his time with the schools.

Cauthen earned his Bachelor's in Health and Kinesiology with a minor in Biology from Stephen F. Austin in 1990. He also obtained a Master's in Sports Administration from the University of Texas-Tyler in 1997. Cauthen is married to the former Annittia Chapman and they share four children -- Brooklyn, Hayden, Dakota and Jackson.

BUSTER FAULKNER

Offensive Coordinator • Tight Ends • 3rd Year
Valdosta State, 2005

A 13-year coaching veteran who has been a part of multiple bowl games and an NCAA Division II national championship, Buster Faulkner begins his third season as Arkansas State's offensive coordinator and second as tight ends coach in 2018.

His first season at A-State saw the Red Wolves bounce back from an 0-4 start to finish with an 8-5 record, a Sun Belt Conference title and 31-13 victory over UCF in the Cure Bowl. Under his direction as offensive coordinator, the Red Wolves recorded 4,932 yards total offense that was the sixth most in school history.

Faulkner and A-State followed up the 2016 season by making another bowl-game appearance the following year, this time playing in the Camellia Bowl to conclude a 2017 campaign that saw the offense average a school-record 494.8 yards per game, which also ranked No. 10 in the nation.

A-State had eight offensive players named All-Sun Belt in 2017, including Offensive Player of the Year Justice Hansen at quarterback and first-team selection Blake Mack at the tight end position. Faulkner was responsible for coaching the Red Wolves' all-time leader in both receptions and receiving yards by a tight end, and Mack went on to sign a free agent contract with the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs following the season.

Arkansas State posted over 400 yards total offense in all but two outings in 2017, including a school-record 781 yards in a victory over ULM. The Red Wolves averaged 342.2 passing yards per game to rank fifth in the country, while also averaging 37.8 points per game that ranked 13th in the nation.

Led by five offensive players earning All-Sun Belt honors in 2016, the Red Wolves recorded over 300 yards total offense in 10 outings, more than 400 in five contests and at least 500 in two outings. Faulkner's offense recorded a season-high 525 yards in the Sun Belt opener, a 27-26 win over Georgia Southern.

Faulkner mentored 2016 A-State newcomer Hansen, an Honorable Mention All-Sun Belt Conference choice as a sophomore. Hansen completed the year with 19 passing touchdowns that tied the fourth most in school history, while his 2,719 passing yards were the sixth most. He also posted a 138.9 pass efficiency rating that ranked first in the Sun Belt and 45th in the nation.

Prior to A-State, Faulkner spent five seasons as an assistant coach at Middle Tennessee, including the last four full years as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. He helped guide the Blue Raiders to 31 victories, numerous school records and a pair of bowl-game appearances from 2012-15.

Under his tutelage, the Blue Raiders amassed more than 5,000 yards of total offense in three consecutive seasons for the first time in school history while averaging over 31 points a game. MT's 2015 team amassed 5,946 yards and scored 442 points, both school records, helping the squad finish 6-2 in Conference USA and earn an invitation to the Bahamas Bowl.

Faulkner also led several record-setting individuals in 2015, as freshman quarterback Brent Stockstill led the way by setting new single season marks for passing yards (4,005), passing yards per game (308.1), completions (327), attempts (490), touchdowns (30), 300-yard games (8) and consecutive 300-yard games (4).

Freshman All-American Richie James caught a school record 108 passes for 1,346 yards, while senior wide-out Ed Batties brought down an MT-record 13 receiving touchdowns under Faulkner last season.

Stockstill and James became the first quarterback and receiver pairing in school history to amass 3,000 yards passing and 1,000 yards receiving in the same season.

Prior to the 2015 season that saw MT rank 32nd in the nation in total offense and 35th in scoring offense, the 2014 unit ranked 30th nationally in rushing, while Austin Grammer became the first signal-caller in school history to throw for over 200 yards in each of his first seven games and finished 11th nationally in completion percentage.

Faulkner helped lead the Blue Raiders to an 8-5 overall record and appearance in the Armed Forces Bowl in 2013 as his offense had the second most yards in school history, ranked 31st nationally in rushing and 25th in third down conversion percentage. The offense also registered seven games of 200 or more yards rushing and had five different players top the 100-yard rushing mark. Quarterback Logan Kilgore became the first signal-caller in school history to have three straight 2,000-yard seasons with all three years coming under Faulkner.

In 2012, the unit keyed the Raiders' 8-4 season by re-establishing the running game and protecting the football. Middle Tennessee ranked 46th nationally in rushing and tied for 28th for fewest turnovers lost. The unit also had four games where they rushed for over 200 yards and produced three different 100-yard rushers. Wide receiver Anthony Amos and center Micah James both earned first team all-conference honors.

In 2011, Faulkner took over the play-calling duties as offensive coordinator the final seven games of the year while remaining quarterbacks coach. His unit went on to record the fifth most yards of total offense, complete a then-record 299 passes and became just the second offense in school history to amass over 3,000 passing yards.

Faulkner went to Middle Tennessee after serving the 2010 season as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Murray State. In his lone season at MSU, Faulkner's offense broke 27 school records and finished first in the FCS in total plays, pass completions, and completion percentage. The Racer offense racked up nearly 5,000 yards and produced the first 500-yard passer, 200-yard rusher, and 200-yard receiver in the same game in FCS history. The Racers ranked fifth in total offense nationally in 2010, while the year prior to Faulkner's arrival MSU had a ranking of 115.

The 2010 Racers offense ranked first in the OVC and fifth nationally with 36.09 points per game, while also leading the league in passing offense and ranking fourth nationally with 313.5 yards per contest. The MSU quarterbacks led the country in completions and completion percentage.

Under Faulkner's guidance, quarterback Casey Brockman had just six starts in 2010 but earned second team all-conference honors and was twice picked as the National Player of the Week. Brockman also garnered three OVC Player of the Week awards en route to finishing first in the league and eighth nationally in passing yards per game. Brockman accounted for 313 yards of total offense per game.

Prior to joining the Racers staff, Faulkner spent the 2009 season as the quarterbacks coach at Central Arkansas. UCA's offense averaged 26.2 points a game and 215.8 yards a game through the air and was ranked in the Top 25 nationally in every offensive statistic.

Senior quarterback Robbie Park finished the year going 217-for-358 for 2,434 yards and 12 touchdowns. The yardage total was seventh on the school's all-time single-season list.

Faulkner's coaching career began at Valdosta State, where he served as a student assistant helping with the quarterbacks in 2005. After one season with the Blazers, he served as an offensive graduate assistant at Georgia, working with the offensive line and quarterbacks.

Faulkner returned to Valdosta State in 2007 and served as the quarterbacks coach for two seasons. In his first season, the Blazers went 13-1 and captured the Division II National Championship as quarterback Willie Copeland passed for 2,903 yards and 27 touchdowns.

Faulkner took over as the offensive coordinator for the Blazers in 2008. VSU averaged 380.8 yards a game in advancing to the quarterfinals as quarterback Chris Hart earned Freshman of the Year honors. Hart accounted for over 3,000 yards and 27 touchdowns.

As a player, Faulkner starred as a quarterback for Valdosta State from 2000 to 2003. In three years with the Blazers, he passed for 7,100 yards and 64 touchdowns while registering a 47-6 record.

As a sophomore, Faulkner earned first-team All-Gulf South Conference honors and honorable mention All-American accolades after going 327-for-503 for 3,941 yards and 44 touchdowns in leading the Blazers to a 14-1 record and a spot in the National Championship game.

He played his senior season at Texas A&M-Commerce, where he passed for 2,861 and 16 touchdowns, while setting 10 school records.

During his prep career, Faulkner started at quarterback as a sophomore and led Parkview High School to the 1997 Georgia state championship.

A native of Lilburn, Ga., Faulkner earned his bachelor's degree in history from Valdosta State in 2005. Faulkner, and his wife, Tia, have one son, Harrison, and two daughters, Hadley and Haisley.

NORVAL McKENZIE

Running Backs • Special Teams Coordinator • 3rd Year
Vanderbilt, 2005

Norval McKenzie enters his third season in 2018 as Arkansas State's running backs coach and his first as special teams coordinator.

His initial season with the Red Wolves saw the squad post an 8-5 record, win a Sun Belt Conference championship with a 7-1 record and defeat UCF 31-13 in the Cure Bowl. A-State's primary two backs, sophomore Warren Wand and junior Johnston White, combined to rush for 1,351 yards and 12 touchdowns. Wand accounted for a team-high 879 yards alone, while also posting 24 receptions for 279 yards and three more scores. Following the regular season, he was named Second Team All-Sun Belt Conference as an all-purpose selection.

McKenzie's second year at A-State saw the team finish with a 7-5 overall record, 6-2 mark in Sun Belt play and make another appearance in a bowl game – the Camellia Bowl. The McKenzie-coached running backs helped the Red Wolves rank No. 10 in the nation in total offense, averaging a school-record 494.8 yards per game. The unit also accounted for 10 combined touchdowns as the team ranked No. 13 in the country in scoring offense with 37.8 points per game.

Like the 2016 season, the 2017 running backs were led by Wand and White as the two combined for 232 rushing attempts for 1,145 yards and nine touchdowns. Spending the two previous seasons under McKenzie, Wand will enter his senior season in 2018 with the 11th most rushing yards (2,303) in school history and 697 shy of becoming the fifth all-time A-State player with 3,000 for a career. White concluded his career with 28 rushing touchdowns, which is the sixth most in school history.

McKenzie came to A-State after spending the previous five seasons as a member of the Furman University coaching staff in a variety of roles, including running backs coach, special teams coordinator and recruiting coordinator.

During his time with the Paladins, McKenzie coached a pair of All-Southern Conference running backs and two others who were named to the league's All-Freshman Team. Jerodis Williams was a two-time All-SoCon choice after rushing for 2,225 yards and 20 touchdowns over his junior and senior campaigns, in addition to earning All-America honors in 2012 when he led the FCS in kickoff returns (35.9 avg., 2 TDs).

McCloud, who completed his career ranked 10th in Furman rushing history, garnered all-conference recognition in 2013 after running for 1,110 yards and five scores. Triston Luke rushed for 385 yards and a pair of scores in 2015 to find a place on the league's All-Freshman Team, while Marcus Anderson earned the recognition in 2013 when he posted 334 rushing yards and two touchdowns.

McKenzie helped lead Furman to a 2013 SoCon championship and several victories over FCS nationally-ranked teams, including No. 5 Wofford in 2011. The Paladins also knocked off then-FCS member and No. 3-ranked Appalachian State in 2011.

A Powder Springs, Ga., native and former football standout at McEachern (Ga.) High School, McKenzie was a four-year football letterman for Vanderbilt (2001-04), where he rushed for 1,411 career yards. He battled back from a serious leg injury his sophomore year to lead Vanderbilt in rushing as both a junior and senior.

McKenzie was a rare triple major, earning an undergraduate degree in secondary education, political science, and American history in 2005. He completed his master's degree in education at Vanderbilt in 2010.

Following graduation, he began his coaching career at Hiram (Ga.) High School, working two seasons there before returning to Vanderbilt as a graduate assistant coach for the 2008 and 2009 campaigns.

The 2008 season saw him help Vanderbilt post its first winning season (7-6) since 1982 and a 16-14 victory over Boston College in the Gaylord Hotels Music City Bowl – the program's first bowl victory since 1955. McKenzie assumed the duties of assistant recruiting coordinator, while also helping with player development and coordinating the Gridiron Club for former Commodore letter winners, in 2010.

McKenzie is the father of one daughter, Anaya, and he and his wife Amber have a son, Storm.

BRIAN EARLY

Defensive Line • Run Game Coordinator • 5th Year
Arkansas-Monticello, 1994

Kyle Brian Early is beginning his fifth season as Arkansas State's defensive line coach and his first as the team's run game coordinator.

Each of his first four seasons at A-State saw the Red Wolves rank among the top 41 teams in the nation in both sacks and tackles for loss, while he also tutored at least two all-conference selections on the defensive line each year. Arkansas State made four straight postseason appearances at the 2015 GoDaddy Bowl, 2015 New Orleans Bowl, 2016 Cure Bowl and 2017 Camellia Bowl, and the Red Wolves won back-to-back Sun Belt Conference titles in 2015 and 2016 with a combined 15-1 record.

He coached Ja'Von Rolland-Jones all four years of his career, tutoring the defensive end who was twice named the Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year and concluded his time at A-State as the NCAA's second all-time leader in career sacks (43.5) and ranked eighth in tackles for loss (64.5). Also Arkansas State's and the Sun Belt Conference's all-time leader in sacks, Rolland-Jones signed a free agent contract with the NFL's Cincinnati Bengals following the 2017 season.

Most recently, Early's defensive line helped A-State rank No. 6 in the nation in tackles for loss (8.3 per game) and No. 19 in sacks (2.92 average) in 2017 as he was nominated for the Broyles Award, which is annually issued to the top college football assistant coach in the nation. Those numbers came one year after the Red Wolves led the country in tackles for loss (9.6 per game) and ranked No. 6 in sacks (3.31 average) in 2016.

Including Rolland-Jones as first-team selection, the Red Wolves had four defensive linemen named All-Sun Belt Conference in 2017. Also earning the recognition were Ronheen Bingham (2nd Team, DE), Caleb Caston (Third Team, DE) and Dee Liner (Honorable Mention, DL). In addition to Rolland-Jones signing an NFL free agent contract, Liner also signed with the Kansas City Chiefs.

The 2016 defensive-line production led to A-State placing two defensive ends on the First Team All-Sun Belt Conference squad, including Rolland-Jones as he became just the second defensive player in league history to be named its Player of the Year. Fellow defensive end Chris Odom finished the year with 12.5 sacks and signed a free agent contract with the Atlanta Falcons.

Rolland-Jones and Odom made up the only set of teammates in the nation during 2016 to both rank among top 10 players in the nation in total sacks, as well as the top 20 players in tackles for loss. Early also coached interior defensive lineman Waylon Roberson to an Honorable Mention All-Sun Belt Conference season.

A-State's 2015 campaign saw three of his players earn all-league recognition as well. Rolland-Jones, who ended 2015 ranked second in the nation in sacks per game among active players, earned first-team recognition to lead the group. Senior defensive end Chris Stone was tabbed second team and senior defensive lineman Robert Mondie was a third-team choice. His defensive linemen helped A-State rank first in the nation in defensive touchdowns (8) and interceptions (26) and second in turnovers gained (34).

Led by Rolland-Jones with a team-high nine sacks, A-State's 2.4 sacks per game was the 41st highest average in the nation. Additionally, the squad's 6.8 tackles for loss ranked 38th.

His first season working with the A-State defensive line saw the Red Wolves rank No. 17 in the nation in team sacks (2.85 per game) and No. 36 in team tackles for loss (6.6 per game). Early's line was responsible for 22.5 of A-State's 37 sacks that were the most by an A-State team since 2002 and the second most over the last 29 years. The Red Wolves' front four also accounted for a combined 10 forced and recovered fumbles for a defense that ranked 21st in the nation in turnovers gained and 28th in fumble recoveries. The same group piled up 45.5 tackles for loss, which was over half of the team's 86 total that were the most since 2011 and tied the program's third most since gaining FBS status in 1992.

He coached two All-Sun Belt Conference selections in 2014, including second team pick Rolland-Jones and honorable mention choice Stone. Despite playing in just 10 games before suffering a season-ending injury, Rolland-Jones, named a SCOUT second team Freshman All-American, tallied a team-high eight sacks that were the 11th most in school history for a single season, ranked as the fifth most in the Sun Belt Conference and were the 14th most in the nation. He posted a school-record five sacks against Idaho, which also tied the Sun Belt record and the most in the nation for the 2014 season. The redshirt freshman also collected a team-high 12.0 tackles for loss that were the 10th most in the league.

Early's position group has been the driving force leading to a combined 146 sacks that are the program's most over any four-year span since moving to FBS status in 1992. The Red Wolves also posted at least 86 tackles for loss each of the last four seasons, achieving the feat for the first time in school history.

With previous coaching stops at Central Arkansas, Arkansas-Monticello and three Arkansas high schools, Early brought deep ties to the state with him. Prior to A-State, he most recently served as the University of Arkansas Defensive Quality Control Coach in 2013. His journey to Arkansas State also included a stop on the coaching staff at Minnesota State-Mankato.

Early has coached or recruited nine All-Americans, five conference players of the year and three NFL Draft picks in his career that spans over 20 years, including 13 at the collegiate level.

Early spent the four years before his time at Arkansas as defensive coordinator at Fayetteville High School, where he helped the Bulldogs to three straight 7A state championship game appearances and back-to-back titles in 2011 and 2012. The 2011 and 2012 Fayetteville teams were ranked in the top 50 nationally by MaxPreps.

His 2012 Fayetteville defense included Brooks Ellis, a two-time Arkansas High School Defensive Player of the Year, and Alex Brignoni, whose 19 career interceptions ranked first all-time in Arkansas history in the state's largest classification.

Early went to Fayetteville High School after coaching defensive line for four years and linebackers for one year while also serving as special teams co-coordinator at Central Arkansas. In his time with UCA, the Bears won two conference championships in two different classifications, taking the Division II Gulf South crown in 2005 and the FBS Southland Conference title in 2008.

They twice led the conference in scoring defense, and Larry Hart was named the 2008 Southland Conference Defensive Player of the Year. UCA also led the nation in net punting in 2008, and in 2007 All-American Tristan Jackson led the country with an average of 23.6 yards per punt return. Early also coached the two highest-drafted players in UCA history as Hart was a fifth-round pick by Jacksonville in 2010 and Jacob Ford was a sixth round selection by Tennessee in 2007.

During the 2002 and 2003 seasons, Early was the linebackers coach and co-special teams coordinator at Minnesota State-Mankato. He was the defensive coordinator and strength and conditioning coordinator at West Memphis High School in 2001, helping lead the Blue Devils to the state quarterfinals.

In 1999 and 2000, he was the linebackers coach and strength and conditioning coordinator at the University of Arkansas at Monticello. There, he coached Danielle Rollins, who led the nation in total tackles in 1999 and in tackles per game in 2000 and was named the Gulf South's Defensive Player of the Year in 2000.

Early began his coaching career in 1994 as defensive coordinator and strength and conditioning coordinator at Greenland High School. He helped lead the Pirates to back-to-back conference championships in 1997 & 1998. The '98 team was the first to complete an unblemished regular season and recorded the first playoff win in school history.

Early graduated from the University of Arkansas at Monticello with a bachelor's degree in physical education and health in 1994 and earned his master's degree in secondary education from UAM in 2000. He has three daughters (Sydney, Aivery and Camryn), one son (Dre) and is married to Nanci.

ALLEN JOHNSON

Safeties • Pass Game Coord. • 5th Year
Texas A&M-Commerce, 1999

Allen Johnson is beginning his fifth season as Arkansas State's safeties coach and his first as the team's pass game coordinator.

Johnson possesses over 19 years coaching experience at both the collegiate and high school levels. His first season at Arkansas State saw the Red Wolves post a 7-6 record and make an unprecedented fourth consecutive appearance in the GoDaddy Bowl.

The Red Wolves followed that up with a Sun Belt Conference championship and appearance in the New Orleans Bowl in 2015. A-State made it back-to-back league titles in 2016 and ended the season by knocking off UCF 31-13 in the Cure Bowl. A-State made its fourth consecutive bowl-game appearance – the Camellia Bowl – with Johnson on the coaching staff in 2017.

The most recent season saw Johnson mentor two players who earned all-conference recognition, including Nickelback Justin Clifton as a second-team selection and safety B.J. Edmonds as an honorable mention choice. The two players were part of the Red Wolves' secondary that helped the team rank No. 9 in the nation in 4th down conversion percentage defense (.364), No. 21 in 3rd down conversion percentage defense (.330), No. 21 in defensive touchdowns (3), No. 27 in fumbles recovered (10), No. 29 in turnovers gained (24), No. 32 in passes intercepted (14), No. 32 in 1st downs defense (233) and No. 40 in team passing efficiency defense (120.59).

Just a sophomore in 2017, Edmonds posted career best numbers and finished the season ranked second on the team in tackles with 80 and first on the squad in interceptions with three. Clifton was the squad's third-leading tackler, but the unit also featured nickelback and safety Darreon Jackson as the Red Wolves' fourth-ranked tackles leader.

Johnson coached three players who earned all-conference recognition in 2016, including safety Money Hunter as a first-team selection and Clifton and safety Cody Brown as second-team choices. The three players helped A-State rank eighth in the nation in defensive touchdowns, 19th in scoring defense, 23rd in pass efficiency defense, 29th in total defense and 30th in 3rd down conversion defense.

In fact, Hunter ended his career as the Sun Belt Conference's all-time leader in interception returns for a touchdown with four. Brown tied for the team high in interceptions in 2016 with three, while Clifton ranked second on the squad in tackles with a career-high 87 to his credit.

The 2015 season saw the Red Wolves rank No. 1 in the nation in interceptions with 26, and Johnson's safeties were responsible for 10 of those. Led by juniors Hunter and Brown with three interceptions each and three combined pick-six's, the position group was also instrumental in A-State's No. 1 national ranking in defensive touchdowns (8).

Following the season, Brown was named a Second Team All-Sun Belt Conference selection with 65 tackles to go along with his three interceptions and nine pass break-ups. Additionally, A-State ranked second in the nation with 34 turnovers gained, which tied its most ever as an FBS member.

A-State saw three different players start at the Nickelback position in 2015. Among the group was Honorable Mention All-SBC selection Khari Lain, who also played linebacker.

Johnson's 2014 safeties were part of A-State's defense that ranked No. 14 in the nation in defensive touchdowns (4), No. 15 in passes intercepted (16), No. 17 in team sacks (2.85 per game), No. 21 in turnovers gained (28), No. 27 in third down percentage defense (.359), No. 28 in fumbles recovered (12), No. 36 in fourth down percentage defense (.435) and team tackles for loss (6.6 per game), No. 42 in red zone defense (.795), No. 44 in passing yards allowed (216.0 ypg) and No. 45 in team passing efficiency defense (122.26).

Despite losing starting strong safety Chris Humes just two games into the season, two of A-State's top five tacklers were safeties. Johnson coached sophomore Hunter, who stepped into the starting role and enjoyed the best season of his young career with 65 tackles, one sack, one forced fumble, two pass break-ups and two interceptions, including one returned 94 yards against Toledo that was the longest scoring play in GoDaddy Bowl history. Hunter also had a career-tying 11 tackles in the bowl game.

Under Johnson's watch, senior safety Sterling Young ended his career as the team's third leading tackler in 2014. Young accounted for 75 tackles, one forced fumble, three pass break-ups and two interceptions. Johnson also tutored All-SBC pick Andrew Tryon at the nickelback position in 2014.

The Red Wolves' safeties compiled a combined 171 tackles for almost 20 percent of the team's total. The group also combined for four interceptions, five pass break-ups and three forced fumbles.

Prior to arriving at A-State, Johnson spent three seasons at Lamar University as the assistant head coach from 2012-13 and the defensive coordinator in 2011, while also overseeing the secondary all three years.

Johnson was part of Lamar's coaching staff charged with reviving a program that took the field in 2010 for the first time since 1989. Competing in the NCAA FCS as a Southland Conference (SLC) member, the Cardinals led the league in both pass defense and pass efficiency defense in 2012 and 2013 with Johnson serving as the secondary coach.

Not only did Lamar's secondary function as one of the top units in the SLC, the group boasted several players that were recognized for their individual efforts under the direction of Johnson. Safety Chad Allen and cornerbacks Branden Thomas and Tyrus McGlothen were All-Southland Conference choices during their career. McGlothen earned first team recognition in 2013 when he posted 81 tackles, seven tackles for loss, one sack and a fumble recovery.

Prior to his time at Lamar, Johnson coached the cornerbacks at the University of Texas-El Paso for three seasons. While at UTEP, Johnson coached such star defensive backs as Cornelius Brown, Melvin Stephenson and Clarence Ward, all of whom played briefly in the National Football League. Johnson's final season at UTEP (2010) saw the Miners make their first appearance in a postseason game since 2005, competing in the New Mexico Bowl.

Before going to UTEP, Johnson spent the 2007 season as the defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator at Midwestern State University, which fielded the top defense in the Lone Star Conference (LSC) that year. In going 8-3 that season, Midwestern State led the league in scoring defense (18.6 points-per-game average), total defense (294.2 yards-per-game average) and rushing defense (93.9 yards-per-game). The Mustangs also ranked third in the LSC in pass defense and pass defense efficiency.

In 2006, Johnson served as the quality control coach at Oklahoma State University, helping lead the Cowboys to seven wins and an Independence Bowl victory. He doubled as the secondary coach and recruiting coordinator at Blinn College in 2005, helping the team qualify for the National Junior College Athletic Association playoffs.

Johnson started his coaching career as a defensive graduate assistant coach at Texas A&M-Commerce in 1999 before being elevated to a full-time position as running backs coach in 2000. After his two-year stint on the Lions' coaching staff, he spent the next four seasons in the high-school coaching ranks at Gaither HS (2001) in Tampa, Fla., at Plant HS (2002) in Tampa and at Newman Smith HS (2003-04) in Carrollton, Texas. He worked with the secondary at all three high schools and was also the defense coordinator his lone season at Gaither.

Johnson, who earned his bachelor's degree in health and kinesiology at Texas A&M University-Commerce in 1999 and his master's degree in the same field a year later, played collegiately at Kilgore College, Central Oklahoma and A&M-Commerce.

After taking a break in his college career to serve in the U.S. Air Force, Johnson earned All-Lone Star Conference South Division honors and a trip to the Snow Bowl as a senior in 1998. He also competed for the A&M-Commerce track and field team and served as president of the school's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee.

Chris Buckner, who has coached on five conference or division championship teams over the last eight seasons, begins his first season on the Red Wolves' staff as outside wide receivers coach.

Buckner, a four-year football letterman at New Mexico State from 2006-09, comes to A-State after most recently spending the last two seasons at Western New Mexico as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach. He began his coaching career at Jackson State in 2010 and since that time has seen 13 of his players earn all-conference recognition, including two All-America selections and two named either conference Offensive Player or Receiver of the Year.

During his time directing Western New Mexico's offense, the squads ranked among the top 28 FCS teams in the nation in passing offense in both 2016 and 2017. His 2016 unit averaged 285.5 passing yards per game that was the 16th most in the nation. The Mustangs averaged 407.9 yards total offense per game in 2017, the same year their passing game ranked 28th in the country.

He served as the position coach for quarterback Javia Hall, who earned All-Lone Star Conference (LSC) honors his senior season while raking fourth in the nation completions per game (25.5), 13th in total offense (306.6 ypg), 18th in passing yards (3,006) and 26th in passing touchdowns (24).

Working as offensive coordinator, he also coached All-LSC selections Xavier Ayers (WR), D'Angelo Bowie (WR), Evan Beebe (WR), Sean North (WR) and Iverson Moana (OL). Ayers was named the 2016 Lone Star Conference Receiver of the Year and AFCA First Team All-American after recording 80 receptions for 1,025 yards and nine touchdowns.

Prior to his time at WNMU, Buckner spent the 2014 and 2015 campaigns as the wide receivers coach and recruiting coordinator at North Carolina Central. He helped guide the Eagles to back-to-back Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) titles.

The 2014 MEAC championship was their first since 1973, and the squad also collected seven victories for the program's most since 2006. The following season in 2015, North Carolina Central posted an 8-3 record on their way to the league title.

Buckner coached wideouts Adrian Wilkins and Quentin Atkins to an All-MEAC season in 2014, when the two players combined for 1,155 yards and eight touchdowns to help the Eagles rank second in the conference in passing yards per game (203.8).

A-State's new outside wide receivers coached spent one season at Savannah State in 2013 as co-offensive coordinator and wide receivers coach. That season, the Tigers averaged 209.7 yards passing per game to rank second in the MEAC.

Buckner tutored All-MEAC wide receiver Simon Heyward, who ranked among the top 10 players in the league in both receptions (36) and receiving yards (572). Tight end Kris Drummond also earned All-MEAC recognition with Buckner serving as co-offensive coordinator.

Following his graduation from New Mexico State University, Buckner joined the Jackson State staff as a graduate assistant coach in 2010 and was elevated to wide receivers and tight ends coach for both the 2011 and 2012 seasons.

Jackson State claimed the Southwestern Athletic Conference (SWAC) East Division championship every year during Buckner's time at the school. His final year with the program saw the Tigers post a 7-2 SWAC record and play in the league's championship game.

He mentored wideout Rico Richardson, the SWAC Offensive Player of the Year who went on to sign a NFL rookie free agent contract with the Kansas City Chiefs. Richardson also spent time with the Houston Texans, Tennessee Titans, Arizona Cardinals and San Diego Chargers.

Buckner's wide receivers and tight ends were key components to Jackson State's 2011 offense, which averaged an FCS-best 490 yards per game. The squad posted a 9-2 overall record and following the season, Richardson and tight end Renty Rollins were named All-SWAC. Rollins was also tabbed an HBCU All-American for his performance. The Tigers posted a 6-3 SWAC record in 2010 to win the East Division, and they recorded 4,539 yards total offense to rank ninth in the nation.

A native of Arlington, Texas, Buckner played both wide receiver (2006-07) and defensive back (2008-09) at New Mexico State, where he earned his bachelor's degree in business administration in 2009. He played in 47 career games with the Aggies, finishing his career with 44 receptions for 359 yards on the offensive side of the ball. Playing as a defensive back his last two seasons, Buckner posted 46 tackles, an interception and a fumble recovery.

In May 2010, he went through OTAs with the Dallas Cowboys, and then moved on to Jackson State to begin his coaching career.

The inside wide receivers coached by Cefalo were a big part of A-State's success that led to a school record for total offense average. The unit was headlined by Second Team All-Sun Belt Conference selection Chris Murray, who led the team in both receptions (50) and receiving touchdowns (9). In fact, the senior's receiving touchdown total not only ranked as the fourth most in school history for a single season, they tied the 25th most in the nation.

Cefalo returned to Arkansas State to work on the offensive side of the ball after previously spending the 2016 season as a graduate assistant coach at Maryland, which doubled its win total over the previous season and made an appearance in the Quick Lane Bowl. During his four seasons as a member of the A-State (2013-15) and Maryland (2016) coaching staffs, Cefalo was part of 30 combined victories and coached in four bowl games.

Cefalo worked on the offensive side of the ball, primarily with quarterbacks and wide receivers, the previous four years at both Maryland and Arkansas State. Arkansas State compiled a 22-15 record during Cefalo's first stint with the program and played in three consecutive bowl games, including the 2014 and 2015 GoDaddy Bowl and the 2015 New Orleans Bowl. The Red Wolves also collected 18 All-Sun Belt Conference selections on the offensive side of the ball during Cefalo's initial three years with the program.

Cefalo spent the first six months of 2013 as a recruiting intern at Boise State before entering the coaching profession at A-State. Prior to Boise State, he enjoyed a successful playing career at the University of Colorado, where he walked on in 2009 before earning a scholarship in the fall of 2011. He originally signed to play baseball at Oregon State, but suffered a season-ending arm injury and transferred to Colorado to begin his collegiate football career.

Cefalo caught two touchdown passes during his senior season, including the go-ahead touchdown in a victory over Colorado State. He was awarded the Gold Group Commitment award in 2009, which is given out by the Colorado coaching staff and recognizes excellence with class in a variety of areas.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (12/16/17) – Arkansas State nearly erased an 18-point second half deficit, but fell short of completing the comeback and lost to Middle Tennessee 35-30 in the Raycom Media Camellia Bowl at Cramton Bowl stadium.

Justice Hansen threw for 337 yards and three touchdowns, but was sacked six times, including three on the final drive of the game. Justin McInnis led the team in receiving with seven receptions for 107 yards, while Christian Booker and Warren Wand each had a touchdown catch. Wand also led the team in rushing with 46 yards on 13 attempts.

A-State (7-5) pulled within a touchdown late in the fourth quarter when Hansen found Booker on a 41-yard scoring reception to get within five points with 5:03 to go in the game. The A-State defense then forced Middle Tennessee (8-6) to punt the ball after the Blue Raiders failed to convert a third-and-eight pass play. The defensive stand did force the Red Wolves to use all of their timeouts, however, as they took over on their own 9-yard line with 1:27 remaining.

Hansen was sacked on the first play of the drive, but then connected with Blake Mack and Chris Murray on back-to-back passes to get to A-State 42. After an incompletion, Hansen was sacked on back-to-back plays, including the final play of the game as the ball came lose and was recovered by the Red Wolves as time expired.

The Red Wolves hurt themselves with crucial penalties in the first half. A-State was penalized five times for 61 yards, and two kept drives alive for the Blue Raiders that eventually turned into points as MTSU took an 11-point lead at halftime.

After a quick four-play drive that resulted in a punt for A-State to start the third quarter, Middle Tennessee engineered a 12-play, 73-yard drive that ended in a 2-yard touchdown by Tavares Thomas to go up 28-10.

The Red Wolves responded with a 10-play drive that took 2:50 off the clock to cut deficit to 28-17. Hansen got the offense going with a 12 yard run on second and found McInnis twice on the drive, including a 20-yard competition for the score.

Arkansas State found magic to start the fourth quarter when Cody Grace connected with Chris Murray on a 21-yard fake punt to move his team into scoring position. Hansen threw to Warren Wand two plays later on a 2-yard touchdown pass to cut the Blue Raiders' lead to 28-23 with 14:24 to go in the game.

Middle Tennessee answered on their ensuing drive, however, when Brent Stockstill connected with Shane Tucker on a 30-yard pitch-and-catch to push the lead back to double-digits at 35-23.

Arkansas State outgained the Blue Raiders 462-352 in total offense, but Middle Tennessee finished 120 yards on the ground to A-State's 102. The Blue Raiders were penalized 10 times for 87 yards, while A-State committed 7 mistakes for 81 yards. Each team had three turnovers.

Defensively Darreon Jackson led the team with 12 tackles, including a sack and 1.5 tackles for loss. Kyle Wilson added eight tackles and half tackle for loss.

RED WOLVES IN THE NFL, SUPER BOWL

There has been at least one Red Wolf on 31 of 32 NFL teams so far. The only team yet to have a former A-State player is the Carolina Panthers, and defensive back Darren Toney signed a rookie free agent contract with them in 2009. The team most frequented by A-State alums are the Philadelphia Eagles and New York Jets with 11 each. The Dallas Cowboys, Miami Dolphins and the Chicago/ St. Louis/Arizona Cardinals are next with nine. The Denver Broncos follow with seven former A-State players.

Arkansas State has had more than 125 players sign pro contracts with an NFL franchise. From Clifton Mack in 1939 to Dee Liner, Blake Mack, Ja'Von Rolland-Jones and Kyle Wilson in 2018, the Red Wolves have a very long tradition of developing players that move on to the next level. In fact, A-State had a player taken in the NFL Draft a school-record eight consecutive years from 2007-14 -- Oren O'Neal in 2007, Tyrell Johnson in 2008, tight end David Johnson in 2009, defensive end Alex Carrington in 2010, offensive lineman Derek Newton in 2011, linebacker Demario Davis in 2012, defensive back Don Jones in 2013 and defensive lineman Carrethers in 2014.

Not only were the eight consecutive years with a draft selection a school record, at the time it tied the third longest streak among the "Group of Five" conferences. Carrethers most recently became the 47th A-State player to ever be selected in the NFL Draft. Many players have gone on to very long and successful careers at a number of different levels.

A total of eight former players for A-State have played in the Super Bowl, and seven coaches have experience in pro football's biggest event.

Super Bowl XLIII presented an especially intriguing match-up for Arkansas State fans with four coaches, including Pittsburgh head coach Mike Tomlin, participating that had ties to A-State's football history.

The road to Super Bowl XLIII for Tomlin and two others on the Steelers' coaching staff, linebackers coach Keith Butler and wide receivers coach Randy Fichtner, went through Jonesboro in the mid-to-late 1990's as assistant coaches on the Arkansas State staff. Tomlin, Fichtner and Butler were back in the Super Bowl two seasons later, along with David Johnson.

Working on the opposite sideline in Super Bowl XLIII was Arizona assistant coach Maurice Carthon, who played running back at Arkansas State from 1979-82. Carthon also played in Super Bowls XXI and XXV for the New York Giants, brought home a pair of championship rings, and was an assistant coach on the 1996 Super Bowl runner-up New England Patriots in Super Bowl XXXI.

Prior to Johnson, the most recent former A-State player to compete in the Super Bowl was A-State record-holding punter Kyle Richardson, who was on the World Champion Baltimore Ravens in Super Bowl XXXV.

Ray Perkins, former ASU head football coach in 1992, played in Super Bowls III and V with the Baltimore Colts, and was the offensive coordinator for the Patriots in Super Bowl XXXI.

LB Bill Bergey and RB Leroy Harris played in Super Bowl XII with the Philadelphia Eagles.

DB Oren Middlebrook (who went by Orna while at ASU) played in Super Bowl XII for the Denver Broncos. Former assistant coach Dennis "Dirt" Winston played in four Super Bowls (IX, X, XIII, XIV) with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Arkansas State's athletics programs compete in top-of-the line facilities.

Centennial Bank Stadium, which opened in 1974, has evolved into a beautiful stadium which seats over 30,000 fans. The stadium underwent a "Centennial Expansion" construction project that covered 40,000 square feet, including the press box and concourse, prior to the 2015 season. Now, additional construction is underway on a two-level 66,500-square foot football facility in Centennial Bank Stadium's north end zone. The project also includes new outdoor premium seating options comprised of loge boxes and terrace seating with premium food and access to two cash bars .

The 192,000 square-foot First National Bank Arena is a multi-purpose facility that is home to the A-State basketball, volleyball and indoor track and field teams.

Coaches and student-athletes moved into a $2.7 million track and field complex in spring 2004. It contains a new eight-lane 400-meter track, installed in 2016, and can be set up for two NCAA venues.

Three local country clubs graciously allow A-State's men's and women's golf programs to utilize their facilities for practice and play.

J.A. "Ike" Tomlinson Stadium-Kell Field serves as home to Red Wolves baseball. Built in 1993, the stadium received complete lighting in 1996, 206 field level seats were added for the 2008 season and a new scoreboard was installed in 2011.

A-State's newest women's program, bowling, competes in the Jonesboro Bowling Center, where a new locker room, lounge and pro shop have been constructed

The Red Wolves' soccer and track and field teams utilized the same stadium for the first time in school history during 2014-15, as the soccer field was relocated as part of the track facility.

A-State has also completed a new women's soccer and women's tennis facility, which houses both squads' locker rooms, training room, offices and more. New tennis courts were completed in 2016 as well.

Facilities have received a number of facelifts since Director of Athletics Terry Mohajir's arrival in 2012, making sure that the athletic department's "front door" and other sports areas possess a first-class appearance.

A-State has completed, is in the process of completing and has committed a combined $80 million in construction and facility renovations since Mohajir's arrival, including stadium lighting and seats at Centennial Bank Stadium. Also included in the upgrades have been renovations and updates inside the A-State Football Facility and weight rooms and locker rooms. Renovations to the training rooms at both Centennial Bank Stadium and the Convocation Center, where new seating has also been installed, are among the completed facility projects as well.

A new 3,200 square foot women's soccer and women's tennis facility opened in 2015.

Arkansas State's mission is to educate leaders, enhance intellectual growth and enrich lives. Founded in 1909, A-State is the second-largest university in the state and a leader within the Delta and Mid-South region. It hosts the first osteopathic medical school in the state of Arkansas, NYIT's College of Osteopathic Medicine, and opened the first U.S.-style residential campus in Mexico in fall 2017.

Dedicated to teaching, research, and service, the university provides students with the broad educational foundations that help them develop critical thinking, decision-making, analytical, and communication skills. The university is the state's leading provider of nursing graduates, early childhood educators, and agricultural business graduates. In addition, A-State has top-ranked programs in creative media and speech communication. Degree programs in the nursing and health professions are in great demand nationwide, and A-State boasts clinical affiliations with more than 500 health care facilities, where both physical therapy and occupational therapy doctoral programs are emphasized, alongside a doctoral nurse practitioner program. A-State offers management education that includes international business, technology, entrepreneurship, and economic development through action-based learning.

Arkansas State is also home to the state-of-the-art Arkansas Biosciences Institute, where graduate and undergraduate students conduct cutting-edge research.

The campus has seen more than $150 million in renovations and new facilities in the past seven years, including the expansion of on-campus housing by 500 residents for fall 2017. Private funding is supporting another $80 million in facility work currently underway for the northeast corner of campus, including the Red Wolf Convention Center and Embassy Suites.

A-State is the cultural hub of the region with the largest concert venue, First National Bank Arena, as well as the largest concert hall and theatre located at Fowler Center. The Bradbury Art Museum is the region's leading facility. Arkansas State's Heritage Sites program operates four nationally or internationally known museum locations including the Johnny Cash Boyhood Home and the Hemingway-Pfeiffer Museum.

Arkansas State University has been selected as one of the top-70 institutions of higher education in the Southern region by the editors of U.S. News & World Report magazine in the 2016 edition of "America's Best Colleges." Arkansas State is also ranked in the top Southern universities by Princeton Review.

Jonesboro, home of Arkansas State University, weighs in as the largest city in Northeast Arkansas. As a matter of fact, if you form a triangle by connecting Little Rock, St. Louis and Memphis, Jonesboro stands out as the largest metropolitan city in what amounts to a 17,000 square mile triangular area.

Jonesboro is a great city of over 70,000, and is always ready to welcome incoming A-State students from the moment they arrive in town. The booming community has matured over the past half century into a regional center for cultural, educational, industrial, commercial, agricultural, communication, transportation, recreational and medical interests. It contains almost every convenience of a big city and every comfort of a small town.

The community is alive with cultural events such as the art exhibitions, theatrical and musical productions, not only on campus but in the city itself through the Jonesboro Fine Arts Council, NEA Foundation of Arts, the Forum and the Northeast Arkansas Symphony.

Jonesboro is also the medical hub of northeast Arkansas and southeast Missouri, with two major hospitals and countless medical professionals. The city is also a shopping mecca, offering a modern business district as well as quaint downtown antique shops and restaurants. The $100 million Mall at Turtle Creek recently opened with more than 100 stores.

One of the five largest cities in Arkansas, Jonesboro is located between the vast and fertile Mississippi River and the cultural and scenic richness of the Ozark Mountains. It is nestled about 70 miles west of Memphis, Tennessee, on the gentle slopes of Crowley's Ridge.

Jonesboro is a comfortable one hour drive from Memphis, two hours from Little Rock and four hours from St. Louis. The city and University have meshed resources in recent years and have truly become the "capital" of the northeast quadrant of the state.

Northeast Arkansas is a recreation haven for the person who enjoys water sports, fishing, hunting, and boating as well as the joys of unspoiled nature. Jonesboro and the surrounding area have an abundance of lakes, rivers, ponds, streams and forests to serve as nature's playgrounds for the avid outdoors person.

Jonesboro Mayor Harold Perrin has issued numerous official proclamations at Jonesboro City Council meetings recognizing the Red Wolves for their accomplishments, including during the 2015 season for their appearance in the GoDaddy Bowl (pictured).

Entering the second decade of the new millennium, the Sun Belt Conference continues to challenge itself, and its competitors, in all aspects of intercollegiate athletics. Not content with being simply the youngest football conference in the Football Bowl Subdivision, the conference has shown that it can rise each and every season that comes along. And since the birth of the league as a FBS member in 2001, the evidence is clear that the conference is indeed rising above competitors and peer conferences.

At no time has league athletic success been more obvious than during the course of the last several football seasons. In recent years, Sun Belt members have participated in as many as six bowl games, a 50 percent increase in the league's former high-water mark and only a decade removed from a "one-bowl league" moniker in its formative years. More importantly, Sun Belt teams didn't just get to bowl games … they won them, again in record numbers.

During the last two seasons the Sun Belt tied its record for wins in the postseason with four wins in both 2016 and 2017. The Sun Belt finished second in bowl winning percentage among all 10 FBS conferences in each of those years while also finishing fourth in 2015.

Reaching back to the 2014 season, no conference has a better total bowl winning percentage (.611) than the Sun Belt Conference. Further, the Sun Belt has won more games during that period (11) than its peers the American Athletic Conference (10) and the Mid-American Conference (6). That fact is staggering when considering the Sun Belt has reached its win mark despite those conferences having more opportunities to win games (AAC – 27, MAC – 23, Sun Belt – 17).

All that success comes as the league begins a new tradition this year. The 2018 season will see the conference split into divisions (East/West) for the first time and will stage its first-ever championship game at the end of the regular season on December 1, 2018. The game will be played at the home site of the team with the highest overall winning percentage and will be nationally broadcast on ABC or an ESPN network.

Sun Belt Commissioner Karl Benson expressed his enthusiasm by saying, "We are very excited going forward in football. Having our championship game this year only increases what we already have going. The footprint of this league was done to ensure long-term success and sustainability, and with the membership structure we now have in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas, that footprint is set up for even more success."

The Sun Belt gained much notoriety and notice during the last several football seasons, but that has by no means been the league's only hallmark. Men's basketball – the league's symbol of success in its formative years – recently finished with its highest conference RPI in more than a decade with a No. 13 national finish, and conference members found success in several NCAA postseason events.

Those league successes have been more public in recent years, in part because the Sun Belt itself has been progressive and in the forefront of the digital media world. The league continues to adapt to the ever-changing world of collegiate athletics and continues the process of evolving to better serve its membership, keeping the pledge it made at its founding to be a league of opportunity. Athletic and academic programs who have shown progressive thinking and the desire to improve have always found a home in the Sun Belt.

This past March, the Sun Belt was given a major opportunity boost in presenting itself to the viewing public as the league announced a continuation of its relationship with ESPN. The partnership with ESPN is the most significant and extensive multimedia rights agreement in conference history. Highlights of the contract includes that a minimum of 500 events a year will appear on an ESPN platform beginning in 2020 and that every Sun Belt football, men's basketball and women's basketball game will be viewable on an ESPN platform. It was also announced that linear network football games at Sun Belt home venues will expand to a minimum of 10 games a year on a combination of ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and ESPNU, that Sun Belt Championship events will be on an ESPN platform each academic year that will give exposure to all conference sports, and that digital productions will expand to include regular season competition in Sun Belt sports that have received only limited coverage previously.

Opportunity for Sun Belt growth and success extends beyond television deals. During the recent 2017-18 academic year, Sun Belt member institutions awarded more than $50 million in scholarships to more than 3,100 student-athletes, while also providing life experiences such as team building, domestic and foreign travel, community service, mentoring and recognition through honors and awards. Sun Belt institutions are also leaders in providing career services and the tools to assist in the pursuit of personal goals. Each member employs full-time academic advisors and on average nearly two dozen tutors for academic support. This past spring the Sun Belt hosted a mental health summit aimed at putting mental health awareness out front and reaching to erase the stigma associated with mental health and the need to seek help.

Individual opportunities also extend beyond the league. The Sun Belt had 40 players on active NFL rosters during the past season, with representation on 23 of 32 NFL clubs. The league recently became one of seven conferences nationwide to have back-to-back first-round selections in the NBA Draft when Louisiana's Elfrid Payton went No. 10 overall to the Orlando Magic and Georgia State's R. J. Hunter was the No. 28 pick of the Boston Celtics the following year.

The Sun Belt has nationally-respected programs in nearly every NCAA sport offering and remains a fixture on the national scene while remaining heavily involved in the conduct and competition of college athletics. But it also provides opportunities for success on many unique and different levels. In athletic parlance, the Sun Belt has "upside," and its newest mantra of "Rise Above" is just as applicable now as when it was founded as a home to some of the nation's premier mid-major basketball programs.

In its very first year, one of those programs reached the pinnacle of NCAA men's basketball competition when UNC Charlotte earned a berth in the Final Four. That type of success set the bar very high, but the league's four-decade history is sprinkled with landmark success in all seasons.

In the spring, baseball and softball continue to put the league in the national spotlight with deep runs in postseason play and high visibility in national polls. Coastal Carolina reigned supreme at the pinnacle of college baseball, winning the College World Series for the 2016 season. Louisiana's baseball team ranked No. 1 nationally recently and reached the NCAA Super Regional round in 2014 and 2015. The Cajun softball team has advanced to Super Regional play five times in the last seven seasons including a trip to the Women's College World Series.

Just as important as on-field success, the Sun Belt's commitment to academic excellence remains a league symbol. The league's record book for grade point averages and academic honors is a constantly-changing document, seemingly with each year's success outdoing the previous year. This past spring, a record 23 league programs were recognized for outstanding performance in the classroom, with those teams earning NCAA Public Recognition Awards for APR scores in the top 10 percent nationally. It was the fourth consecutive year the Sun Belt has broken or tied its record for teams honored.

Appalachian State, Arkansas State, Coastal Carolina, Georgia Southern, Georgia State, Louisiana, ULM, South Alabama, Texas State and Troy give the league 10 football members. Little Rock and UTA compete as Sun Belt members in all sports other than football, helping give the conference a mix of the "old" and the "new." Long-time league members, including charter member South Alabama's distinction in being a Sun Belt member since its founding in 1976, continue to have success, and a solid corps of conference newcomers continue to make their marks on league and national levels.

The mix of members also gives the league vitality and diversity across the South. The mix of regions and regional cultures provides a rare opportunity for student-athletes and staffers to experience many environments, and the chance to experience that diversity without leaving their own campuses. The Sun Belt is also noteworthy for its attempts to make each of its championship events in every sport a special moment in the lives of its student-athletes and its many fans and followers.

Many individuals from Sun Belt institutions have brought distinction to their alma maters, and not just in athletics. For every All-Pro linebacker DeMarcus Ware (Troy) and NFL Man of the Year Charles Tillman (Louisiana), world ranked golfer and US Open winner Dustin Johnson (Coastal Carolina) and for every World Series MVP David Freese (South Alabama) hailing from Sun Belt schools, there are also U.S. presidents (Lyndon Johnson, Texas State), business icons (Chick-fil-A president Daniel Cathy, Georgia Southern), and nationally known entertainers (Ludacris, Georgia State, Tim McGraw, ULM and George Strait, Texas State).

These proud alumni, as well as those who represent the dozen league institutions, are proof that the Sun Belt Conference is a league of excitement, a league of opportunity, and one that continues to provide the promise of success with each new day.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS COMMITTEE

The Intercollegiate Athletics Committee (IAC) was formed in the spring of 1997.

The IAC reviews and makes recommendations on issues involving the welfare of student-athletes, the role of athletics in campus life, and the athletics program's compliance with the university, conference, and NCAA regulations; serves as a search advisory committee for key athletics program personnel; reviews the role of existing and potential sports programs; and reviews the athletics budget. The committee reports to the Chancellor.

Membership consists of four students appointed annually by the Student Government Association (one should be a student-athlete); four faculty appointed by the Faculty Senate (staggered two-year terms); one Faculty Athletic Representative appointed by the Chancellor (two-year term); one executive staff member appointed by the Chancellor (two-year term); the Dean of University College; two staff members appointed by the Staff Senate (staggered two-year terms); Student Government Association and Student Activities Board presidents; and representatives from the following external organizations: Alumni Association, Red Wolves Foundation, Lettermen's Club, and the Jonesboro Regional Chamber of Commerce ASU Committee. The Director of Intercollegiate Athletics and the Senior Woman Athletic Administrator serve as ex-officio, nonvoting members. The chancellor appoints a chair at the beginning of each academic year.

Dr. Charles L. Welch serves as president of the Arkansas State University System and as one of the state's leading advocates for higher education.

Dr. Welch was named the second president of the ASU System in November 2010 and officially began his new position in April 2011. He is the youngest person to ever serve as president or chancellor of an Arkansas community college and is the youngest university president in Arkansas.

During his tenure, Dr. Welch has hired new chancellors for all five of the system's campuses. Among the system's major expansion initiatives under his leadership are the merger of Mid-South Community College in West Memphis; the August 2016 opening of NYIT College of Osteopathic Medicine at Arkansas State; and fall 2017 opening of a $100 million privately funded A-State campus in Queretaro, Mexico. Additionally, the ASU System office was relocated to Little Rock and expanded to enhance its statewide exposure and position in higher education leadership at the State Capitol.

Dr. Welch is chairman of the board of the Arkansas Association of Public Universities, as well as co-chair of the executive council of the Arkansas Department of Higher Education. He previously served as president of Henderson State University, chancellor of the University of Arkansas Community College at Hope; vice chancellor for academic affairs at ASU-Beebe; and dean of university studies at Pulaski Technical College. Welch also worked at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock and has served as an instructor of education and political science at three different colleges in Arkansas.

A native of Jonesboro, Dr. Welch was a first-generation college student and the first member of either side of his extended family to receive a graduate degree. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree in political science from the University of Arkansas, where he served as president of the student body. He received a Master of Arts degree in political management from George Washington University and a Doctor of Education degree in higher education administration from UALR.

His experience in the governmental affairs arena includes serving as a White House intern and on the staffs of U.S. Sen. David Pryor and then-U.S. Rep. Blanche Lincoln.

He is a member of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities Board of Directors. He is a past president of the Arkansas Association of Two-Year Colleges, is a former board member for the Arkansas Sheriffs' Youth Ranches, and was inducted into the Arkansas Boys State Hall of Fame. AY Magazine named Welch as one of the "Powerful Men of 2013," and in 2005, Arkansas Business selected Welch to "40 Under 40," which profiled 40 "intriguing business and political leaders under age 40."

Dr. Welch and his wife, Mandy, are the parents of three daughters: Wheatley Grace, Emma Caroline, and Ava Claire.

Kelly Damphousse became Chancellor of Arkansas State University on July 2017 for one simple reason: he wants to do everything in his power to help the next generation of university students in the Mid-South achieve their academic dreams.

A personal touch with students, faculty, staff, alumni, and members of the community has been Damphousse's hallmark throughout his career, and at Arkansas State, has inspired those groups to adopt his "Every Red Wolf Counts" phrase as their operating philosophy. His self-effacing humor and a lifetime spent relating to individuals regardless of the job has endeared him to Arkansas State. Named to the Jonesboro Regional Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors after his arrival, he has also served in official and unofficial capacities with local and regional agencies.

Raised in a small fishing village in northern Canada, Damphousse attended Lethbridge Community College where he earned an associate's degree in law enforcement in 1982. A failed professional hockey tryout foiled one of his two early life ambitions -- a career as a goalie in the NHL. His degree was the starting point for his other goal -- becoming a Royal Canadian Mounted Police officer. Damphousse likes to say that three years in prison at the Alberta Correctional Service where he served as a correctional officer refocused his dream of becoming a Mountie.

Heading south, Damphousse enrolled at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas, where his life was changed forever. Along with completing his bachelor's degree in criminal justice, specializing in law enforcement and police science in 1987, he met Beth Smith, a College Station native who, in Kelly's words, "neither wanted to marry a cop or a Canadian." After a brief stint as a security manager for Macy's in Atlanta and New Orleans, he returned to graduate school at Texas A&M University where he discovered Satanism.

Actually, it was his thesis on the etiology of youthful Satanism that earned him his master's in sociology in 1991. After completing his master's degree, he progressed into drug use at A&M, completing his doctorate under Howard Kaplan, the director of the laboratory for the Studies of Social Deviance, and examined in his dissertation the long-term consequences of using drugs.

He began his university career as an assistant professor in the Department of Justice Sciences at the University of Alabama at Birmingham in 1994, and then returned to his alma mater of Sam Houston State one year later as an assistant professor in the College of Criminal Justice.

Damphousse moved to the University of Oklahoma in 1997 as member of the Department of Sociology, where he directed several research projects, most notably the "American Terrorism Study" with Brent Smith of the University of Arkansas. He also worked on the Arrestee Drug Abuse Monitoring project in Oklahoma City and Tulsa, and the first-ever field test of voice-stress analysis deception detection software. Damphousse was the principal investigator or co-principal investigator on 42 projects at Oklahoma and Sam Houston State.

The co-author with Smith and Jeffrey Gruenewald of the forthcoming 2018 book, Patterns of American Terrorism, Damphousse also served as the co-editor of Social Science Quarterly, volumes 92 through 97. He has authored or co-authored 26 peer-reviewed articles in scholarly publications, 31 book chapters and 20 peer-reviewed technical reports.

Becoming associate dean in 2004, he was appointed the interim dean of CAS at Oklahoma in 2013. Damphousse was made the permanent dean in 2014. As the leader of OU's largest and oldest college, Damphousse led the first college-wide strategic planning exercise as well as assisting faculty and staff in the raising of more than $30 million in private giving.

He is the third permanently appointed Chancellor of Arkansas State, the sixth to hold the title since it was instituted in 2006. Damphousse joins the line of successors to the university's founding leader, V. C. Kays, from 1909 as the 13th chief executive of the institution.

He and Beth have two daughters who are both graduates of Oklahoma. Kayleigh, a 2014 sociology graduate, earned a master's degree at Kansas, and is now the assistant director for retention and persistence at the University of Florida. Kristen, a 2016 biology graduate, recently completed her master's degree in public health at Emory University. The Damphousses are also the proud parents of Maple Leif, a standard poodle and lab mix, who serves as the First Dog of A-State and tweets at @MapleLeifDamp.

Dr. Kelly Damphousse became Chancellor of Arkansas State University on July 1, 2017

Terry Mohajir became the 11th Director of Athletics in A-State history on September 19, 2012, and since that time the Red Wolves have enjoyed unprecedented overall success academically, competitively and financially.

Since being named director of athletics, Mohajir (pronounced MO-HODGE-ER) has adopted an "ALWAYS RISING" slogan as an expansion on the popular "RED WOLVES RISING" campaign. With that theme in mind, the Arkansas State alumnus has instituted sweeping changes, created new policies, produced record-breaking fundraising totals, overseen significant facility upgrades, almost tripled the athletics department budget and implemented creative philosophies that have strengthened the Red Wolves' national brand. During his watch, the Red Wolves have accomplished numerous firsts in both academics and athletics accomplishments, but the Red Wolves' passionate and energetic leader continues to reinforce his belief that "our accomplishments of today become our expectations of tomorrow."

A-State has claimed 18 conference championships under Mohajir, including four Sun Belt football titles (2012, 2013, 2015 and 2016) and league crowns in volleyball (2015 and 2016), men's indoor (2015 and 2018) and outdoor (2016 and 2018) track and field, women's bowling (2016 and 2018), women's basketball (2014 and 2016), men's basketball (2013), women's indoor (2013) and outdoor (2015) track and field and women's cross country (2013).

Since 2012-13, the Red Wolves have won a league-high 16 Sun Belt titles. The next closest programs over the last six years are UT Arlington and South Alabama with 11 championships each. A-State's 18 total conference championships over the last six years are six more than it won the previous 12 years from 2000-11 combined.

Arkansas State had its first female student-athlete ever win an individual national championship and its women's athletics program claimed its highest finish all-time in the Capital One Cup standings, earning two prestigious "Top-50" awards for ranking No. 44 among all NCAA Division I programs during 2013-14 and No. 45 in 2015-16. The No. 44 ranking remains the highest ever by a Sun Belt Conference women's program.

The 2013-14 athletics year also saw A-State enjoy its highest ever finish in the Learfield Sports Director's Cup standings, ranking No. 1 in the Sun Belt Conference and No. 83 in the nation among 297 schools. The Red Wolves' finish not only set a school record, it topped the program's previous high of No. 134 set in 1999-2000 by 51 places. A-State posted its second and third highest finishes ever in the standings in 2016-17 and 2015-16, respectively. A-State has led the Sun Belt Conference twice in the standings and finished among the league's top four programs every year under Mohajir.

During Mohajir's tenure, A-State has won four football conference championships with three different head coaches, including Gus Malzahn, Bryan Harsin and Blake Anderson. His hires have been heralded by the national media as some of the best in the country.

Mohajir has responded well with coaching transitions. Carrying out one of his first major acts as athletics director, he appointed an interim head football coach and kept the entire assistant coaching staff in place for the 2013 GoDaddy.com Bowl. The Red Wolves went on to claim their first bowl victory since 1970 and their first win over a top-25 ranked opponent since joining the FBS in 1992. Faced with a head football coaching change following the next season as well, Mohajir guided A-State through the process again by keeping the assistant coaching staff in place and giving the Red Wolves everything needed in order to pick up a second consecutive GoDaddy Bowl win.

Mohajir has successfully guided A-State through coaching changes in other sports as well. He appointed Mike Hagen head men's golf coach prior to the 2015-16 season, and he was promptly named the Sun Belt Conference Coach of the Year. Mohajir's most recent hire, Mike Balado, was previously the lead assistant at one of the elite men's basketball programs in the nation in Louisville and is considered one of the top up-and-coming head coaches in the nation. He replaced Mohajir's previous hire, Grant McCasland, who led the Red Wolves to 20 regular-season victories to tie the school record in his lone year with the program.

Six different coaches at A-State since Mohajir's arrival have been named either a Sun Belt

Conference Coach of the Year or national Coach of the Year a combined 14 times.

The value he places on the student-athlete has been evident, creating the inaugural A-State Awards held at the end of each year to celebrate both their academic and athletic accomplishments. He was behind the development of a student-advisory group that encompasses everything from a student-athlete mentorship program to fostering leadership in the community. The Red Wolves Leadership Academy program (RWLA) was designed with the sole purpose to obtain 100 percent job placement for all the athletics department's student-athletes upon graduation, and that key initiative has been achieved the last four years in a row.

The RWLA continues to strengthen with a new study abroad component added to foster global awareness, which is often cited by employers as a positive attribute they seek. The study abroad program was designed to allow students the ability to make themselves more marketable in the workforce. The summer of 2015 saw Arkansas State student-athletes take part in the first study abroad program offered by any university and their athletics department in the nation. The program goes hand-in-hand with the RWLA's primary purpose to obtain 100 percent job placement for all its graduating student-athletes.

The Red Wolves' academic performance reached an all-time high during record-setting years since 2014-15, each year setting a new school standard for all-department GPA. The most recent 2017-18 academic year saw A-State's all-department GPA rise to 3.100 as a school-record 223 student-athletes made the fall 2017 Athletics Director's Honor Roll.

The program has also increased its Graduation Success Rate (GSR) the last three years under Mohajir. The most recent data announced in 2017 saw A-State produce a school-record 83 percent GSR, topping its previous high of 79 set just one year prior. The Red Wolves continue to increase their Academic Progress Rate (APR) as well with the most recent data reflecting a school-record 971 score.

Additionally, the Red Wolves' have made a strong commitment to cost of attendance, appropriating funds for all student-athletes that is in the top 15 percent of all FBS schools.

Mohajir's candid media interviews and engaging public speaking appearances have captivated the Red Wolves' fan base, but his actions in a short amount of time have also reflected his vision to take A-State Athletics to new heights. The primary development arm of A-State Athletics, formerly known as the Red Wolf Club, has been renamed the Red Wolves Foundation and a new logo has been introduced as part of a rebranding effort. The changes have been in conjunction with new and exciting initiatives that have been put in place, designed to make a significant impact on donor relations and fundraising opportunities. The positive results are evident with a 184 percent increase in the foundation's annual fund and premium seating revenue, while capital facilities fundraising is at an all-time high as well.

Another area that has seen dramatic growth under Mohajir is the Lettermen's Club, which has seen membership increase 205 percent since 2012. A-State has also achieved its highest spot ever in the Collegiate Licensing Company's (CLC) rankings and set school records for both football total season ticket sales and season ticket revenue. Not only that, A-State recently ranked 21st among schools in the Group of 5 conferences in self-generated revenue.

The athletics department's budget increased from $15.3 million in Mohajir's first year to a school-record $43.1 million (FY 2016), representing an increase of 181 percent. A-State Athletics placed among the top 10 programs in the nation in each of the four most recent Excellence in Management Cup standings, which annually reviews the nation's athletics departments in regards to maximizing fiscal resources while providing results in the form of championship victories.

The growth of A-State's brand under Mohajir led to signing a new 10-year agreement in 2016 with Learfield Sports, one of the multimedia industry leaders, which is generating unprecedented revenue in the athletics department's history. Arkansas State, in the fall of 2016, also entered a new seven-year partnership with adidas that is the most lucrative apparel-based contract in school history and makes it an elite adidas program.

Mohajir has made it a point to engage the fan base, stressing the importance of fan experience through avenues such as courtside seating at basketball games, enhancing game-day atmosphere and ensuring that staff go out of their way to extend every fan their assistance. Also among the changes in this area was the installation of a new approximately 1,600 square foot LED Daktronics scoreboard at Centennial Bank Stadium.

Facilities have received a number of facelifts since Mohajir's arrival as well, making sure that the athletic department's "front door" and other sports areas possess a first-class appearance. A-State has completed, is in the process of completing and has committed a combined $80 million in construction and facility renovations since Mohajir's arrival, including stadium lighting and seats at Centennial Bank Stadium, new tennis courts and a new outdoor track. Also included in the upgrades have been renovations and updates inside the A-State Football Facility and with weight rooms, locker rooms and training rooms at both Centennial Bank Stadium and First National Bank Arena, where new seating has been installed.

The Red Wolves Foundation received a $5 million gift commitment from alumnus Johnny Allison for a renovation to its "Centennial Expansion," and it is tied for the largest individual donation in A-State Athletics history. The construction and renovation project to the stadium's press box and west-side concourse covered 40,000 square feet and cost $26 million.

The Red Wolves Foundation received a $5 million contribution from First National Bank in October 2017 in conjunction to naming rights to the facility formerly known as the Convocation Center, and Mohajir is oversaw the fundraising efforts for an approximately $29-million football facility project in Centennial Bank Stadium's north end zone as well.

Construction on the end zone facility began in December of 2017 following another $5 million commitment by Allison and an additional $5 million contribution from Centennial Bank.

Additionally, a 78,000-square foot Student Activity Center (SAC), which also serves as an indoor practice facility for A-State sports, has been constructed on the north side of Centennial Bank Stadium. The approximate cost was $11 million for construction of the center and the relocation of the soccer complex.

Committed to Title IX and gender-equity initiatives, A-State has worked to improve coaching staff sizes and salaries, operation funding and facilities under Mohajir. Among the upgrades, A-State has completed a new women's soccer and women's tennis facility, which houses both squads' locker rooms, training room and more. A new women's bowling locker room, lounge and pro shop have also been constructed.

His philosophies on scheduling have been well documented, and they resulted in home-and-home games scheduled with nationally-prominent programs such as Missouri and Miami for the first time in A-State history. He has capitalized on the Red Wolves recent success by gaining additional games against teams such as Southern Cal, making A-State the first Sun Belt program to schedule a football contest against the Trojans. In 2020, the Red Wolves will become just the second SBC team to play Michigan.

Mohajir was appointed as the Sun Belt Conference's representative on the inaugural College Football Playoff Athletic Director's Advisory Board, acting as one of 10 athletics directors from FBS conferences on the board. He was also asked to serve on the NCAA Division I Championships Cabinet and the NCAA Division I Football Issues Committee. Mohajir was one of six athletics directors appointed to the NCAA Division I Football Ad Hoc Recruiting Working Group, which was formed to conduct a comprehensive review of Division I football recruiting legislation.

He was most recently appointed Chairman of the Sun Belt Conference AD's Committee and, additionally, he was invited to be a guest panelist at the prestigious Knight Commission public meeting in May 2017 at the National Press Club.

Mohajir continues to evaluate and process information to complete a national-branding campaign, but has already started building a strong foundation for the future of A-State Athletics.

Mohajir's career path went through three other NCAA Division I institutions, including the University of Missouri-Kansas City, Florida Atlantic and Kansas, before leading him back to his alma mater.

Mohajir's wealth of experience, history of success working with a university in A-State's current conference and his noted accomplishments at a BCS automatic qualifying school made him a clear choice to take over the reins at Arkansas State.

Mohajir has gained national respect in collegiate athletics while working with some of the finest administrators and coaches in the country, such as former FAU, Louisville, Miami and Oklahoma head football coach Howard Schnellenberger.

The Overland Park, Kansas native has been involved with major fundraising campaigns at multiple universities, while al so overseeing corporate sales, marketing promotions and ticket sales. Prior to A-State, he most recently served 16 months as Kansas' Senior Associate Director of Athletics and Chief Marketing Officer. Prior to his time with the Jayhawks, he spent a seven-year stint as Florida Atlantic's Senior Associate Director of Athletics for External Relations from 2004-11 after working at UMKC from 1997-2004 as its Assistant Director of Athletics for External Relations.

Mohajir worked at Kansas in a variety of capacities during two different stints, but his latest stop in Lawrence saw him assume responsibility for the Williams Education Fund that totaled over $22 million in revenue for the fiscal year 2012. He supervised the athletics department's areas that generated over $40 million in revenue. In addition, Mohajir oversaw Kansas' multimedia rights partnership for IMG. His most recent role as Chief Marketing Officer was heavily focused on the market strategies for the proposed football stadium renovations.

Mohajir went to Kansas from his position at Florida Atlantic, where he oversaw development, marketing, ticket sales, corporate sales and the media relations department. Foremost among his responsibilities was a fundraising campaign for a $70 million on-campus football stadium. His astute project management helped the Owls' football program reach the 2007 New Orleans Bowl in just its fourth year as an FBS program, an NCAA record for the fastest start-up program to go to a bowl game. During his tenure, FAU's athletics department enhanced its major gift program 800 percent, Owl Club giving increased 400 percent and special-events revenue increased 150 percent.

Mohajir's original connection to KU dated back to the early 1990's, when he was a graduate assistant, an assistant offensive line coach and game-day special team's football coach for the Jayhawks (1993-96). He left Kansas in 1997 but didn't go far, staying in the Kansas City area to take over his administrative position with the newly-created Division I UMKC Athletics program. There he supervised marketing and promotions, sports information, fundraising, radio and TV contracts, corporate sales, tickets, event operations, sports medicine, strength and conditioning and men's soccer.

Under his leadership, the Kangaroos saw dramatic increases in endowment, sponsorships, ticket revenue and its donor base. One of his more visible accomplishments at UMKC was the fundraising and construction efforts for a new training room and strength and conditioning center.

During his time as an assistant coach at Kansas, Mohajir was on the staff that beat UCLA in the 1995 Aloha Bowl and had a final ranking of No. 9 in the AP poll. He was also a football ticket sales and promotions account executive for Kansas Athletics and earned a master's degree in sports management at KU in 1997.

Mohajir graduated from Arkansas State University with a major in sports management and a minor in business marketing in 1993. He was a starting safety on A-State's football team.

Mohajir is married to the former Julie Hammond and they have two daughters, Maria (17) and Molly (15), and son, Marco (10).

The Arkansas State University family lost one of their all-time greats with the passing Sept. 26, 2015, of Bill Keedy, a treasured alumnus and member of the Red Wolves' football broadcast team since 2000. Affectionately known to many simply as "Coach," the 1969 Arkansas State University alumnus spent 15 years in the booth for many of A-State's biggest games. In honor of the Arkansas Sports Hall of Fame inductee, the home radio broadcast location at Centennial Bank Stadium has been renamed the "Coach Bill Keedy Radio Booth." The Red Wolves also wore a commemorative "BK" decal on the back of their helmets in honor of "Coach."
