LADY INDIANS SET EYES ON CHAMPIONSHIP FOR 2007

The Lady Indians are looking for their 10th Sun Belt Conference championship in 2007.

"Our goal, as it is every year, is to win the Sun Belt championship," Arkansas State head coach Craig Cummings said. "We have an extremely talented team with a lot of new faces."

The Tribe returns eight players from last year's squad, including two-time All-Sun Belt selection Robin Aaron.

Aaron, a 5-8 senior middle blocker from Houston, Texas, is set to lead the Lady Indians once again. Aaron was named to the All-Sun Belt

Second team for the second consecutive year following the 2006 season. She led the Tribe with a .274 hitting percentage with 403 kills and 128 blocks in 2006. She is currently ninth on the all-time blocks list at Arkansas State.

Senior Katie Peil, a 5-8 setter out of Belleville, Ill., is back for her final year as a Lady Indian. Peil finished 2006 with 1,553 assists, good enough for fifth in the Sun Belt. Her mark of 1,553 assists was the fourth highest season total in ASU history. She is second on the all-time assists list at ASU and needs just 801 to takeover first place. With last season's 311 digs, Peil is also just 220 digs shy of reaching the 1,000/1,000 club at ASU.

"Katie and Robin are without a doubt the foundation of our team," Cummings said.

Neeley, of Jonesboro, started all 35 matches at the libero position for the Tribe in 2006. She finished the season with 418 digs, averaging 3.24 per game.

DeWalt, a 5-7 outside hitter from Houston, Texas, saw action in 28 matches as a true freshman. She averaged 1.53 kills per game.

"Mandy and Erin bring some experience back for us," Cummings said. "They've played on this level and they know what it's like."

Gillion, a 5-8 junior from Cardwell, Mo., played in six games for the Tribe last season, averaging 1.33 digs per game.

especially against UALR. She came in for Jessalyn and helped put us in a position to win," Cummings said.

Redshirt freshmen Laura Bennett and Laurel England are looking to get in some playing time for the Lady Indians this season. Bennett is a 5-8 setter from Kansas City, Kan. England is a 6-0 outside hitter from Rochester, NY.

"Laura Bennett and Laurel England know what to expect after seeing the level of collegiate play last season," Cummings said.

The Tribe welcomes five newcomers to Lady Indian volleyball.

Mafo Joelle, a 6-0 junior from Younde, Cameroon, helped lead Missouri State-West Plains to third place finishes in the NJCAA National Championships in 2005 and 2006. She was a Pre-Season All-American in 2006 and was named to the All-Region 16 team as a freshman and sophomore. She led MS-WP to a 40-9 record in 2005 and a 41-6 record in 2006 as a middle blocker and outside hitter. Joelle also played on the Cameroon National Volleyball Team.

"Mafo already has great experience right out of the gate," Cummings said. "Her leadership will be beneficial to us."

Four freshmen will join the Lady Indian squad in 2007.

Christin Baker, a 5-8 middle blocker from Edmond, Okla., led Edmond North to third-place ranking in the state. Baker was named to the All-State team and three tournament teams as a senior.

Baker was chosen to participate in the Oklahoma All-Star Volleyball game in Tulsa as a senior. She was named to the All-Conference, All-City and All-Edmond teams as a junior. Baker was a member of the Jenks All-Tournament Team and All-Edmond Team as a sophomore.

Kristen Catalane, a 6-0 outside hitter from Bonham, Texas, led Bonham to the regional finals twice. She was named the All-District MVP as a sophomore and a junior. Catalane, who was also recruited by the University of Oklahoma and Ole Miss, was named the team MVP during her sophomore and junior seasons. Catalane was named to the All-Texoma Land First Team as a sophomore and junior and to six all-tournament teams during her career at Bonham. Catalane was also selected to play in the 2007 Texas All-Star Volleyball game.

Candice Eskridge, a 5-8 outside hitter from Harrisburg, was a three-time All-Conference selection at Harrisburg High School. She was named Most Valuable Player and Outstanding Offense in 2006. She was the Ben Jones Memorial Award recipient and was named the Best Offensive Player as a sophomore.

Noelle Franke, a 6-0 outside hitter from Ballwin, Mo., averaged four-plus kills per game and was a two-year co-captain at Parkway West. She led the Suburban South Conference in kills during senior year. Franke led her team in kills during junior and senior seasons and was named to the All-State First Team as a senior. Franke was also recruited by several schools, including Clemson, Missouri State and Wake Forest.

"The freshman will have a definite impact this season," Cummings said. "We'll really be looking for Kristen Catalane and Noelle Franke to contribute. Christin Baker is extremely athletic. She'll be able to handle it very well."

The Lady Indians have another tough season ahead of them, which features 12 non-conference and 18 Sun Belt Conference matches.

The Tribe will open their season at the Ole Miss/Magnolia Invitational, taking on Jacksonville State, who went undefeated in the Ohio Valley Conference last season, in the opening round. They will take on host-team Ole Miss and Missouri, who finished second in the Big 12, on the second day of the tourney.

Arkansas State will open play at the Convocation Center when they host the ASU/Bancorp South Classic Aug. 31-Sept. 1. The tournament will feature ASU, Murray State, San Jose State and Northwestern State.

"We're really excited to host the tournament this year," Cummings said. "We were able to host the tournament thanks to Bancorp South and the Holiday Inn of Jonesboro."

Murray State will bring one of the top defenses in Division I volleyball with them to the Convocation Center.

"These teams will put on a show," Cummings said. "The fans will have an opportunity to see them compete and it's a pretty special thing."

The Tribe will travel to Central Arkansas to take on UT-Martin, Centenary and Mississippi Valley State before closing out pre-conference play at the Memphis Classic. Arkansas State will face Alabama-Birmingham, who won the Conference-USA tournament last season, Stetson and Memphis, who finished second in C-USA action in 2006.

"We'll be pretty battle tested before conference play," Cummings said.

The Tribe opens Sun Belt action at Denver Sept. 21.

The Lady Indians will host Louisiana-Lafayette Sept. 28 to open conference play at the Convocation Center.

Arkansas State will play a home-and-home series against West Division foes Louisiana-Lafayette, New Orleans, Louisiana-Monroe, Denver, North Texas and UALR. The Tribe will take on teams from the East Division - Western Kentucky, Middle Tennessee, Troy, South Alabama, Florida International and Florida Atlantic - once each, with Troy and South Alabama coming to the Convocation Center.

The 2007 Sun Belt Conference Tournament will be hosted by Denver Nov. 15-17.

Cummings said a complete team effort will be the key to the Tribe's success this season.

"This year will truly be a team sport," Cummings said. "It will take a contribution from everyone involved."

"Win or lose, the effort and heart displayed will always be at a high level," Cummings said. "This will be an exciting year for Lady Indian volleyball."

COACHES*

Arkansas State head coach Craig Cummings enters his 12th season at the helm of the Lady Indian volleyball program, making him the longest tenured coach in ASU volleyball history. During the past 11 seasons at ASU, Cummings has compiled an impressive 212-142 record and has picked up three Sun Belt Conference Coach of the Year honors. Last season, he became on ly the third coach in ASU volleyball history to eclipse 200 wins. He enters the 2007 season with an overall record of 293-252 and needs just two wins to move into second place on ASU's all-time wins list.

Cummings is coming off of an 21-14 overall record and 12-7 Sun Belt Conference record last season. He enters the 2007 season with 94 victories during Sun Belt Conference play which places him third all-time among SBC coaches.

During his tenure at ASU Cummings has guided the Lady Indians to four Sun Belt Conference regular-season championships. Cummings and assistant coach Jo

Beth Mathis have been a part of eight of the Tribe's nine SBC titles all-time as coaches and/or player. His most recent title came in 2004 as the Tribe took home Sun Belt Conference East Division honors as the Lady Indians posted a 25-8 overall record on the year and an 11-3 mark in the Sun Belt Conference.

The 2004 Lady Indians closed out the regular season by picking up victories in 13 of their last 14 matches on their way to the title. The Tribe also posted an undefeated record at home with a 14-0 mark at the Convocation Center. Also under Cummings' tutelage, outside hitter Giedre Tarnauskaite was named the Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year and setter Katie Peil picked up SBC Freshman of the Year accolades.

Cummings' crowning achievement so far was a three-game victory over Arkansas-Little Rock in Little Rock, Ark., on Nov. 21, 1999, that gave him his first SBC Tournament championship and ASU's first NCAA Tournament appearance since 1995.

In 1999, Cummings guided the Lady Indians to a 21-11 record on the season. The 21 wins were the most for ASU since the 1999 campaign and returned ASU to the upper echelon in the Sun Belt Conference.

ASU won another Sun Belt Conference title in 1999 when the Lady Indians finished with a 28-7 record, including a stellar 14-2 mark in conference action. The Lady Indians finished atop the league standings and went on to win the Sun Belt Conference Tournament title and gain the NCAA Tournament appearance. The 28-win campaign was the highest win total for ASU under Cummings and the most since the 1993 season in which ASU picked up 32 victories.

Eight of Cummings' teams have won 20-or-more games-after a 24-win campaign in Cummings' first season in 1996, ASU had a 21-12 record in 1997, a 23-11 record in 1998, a 28-7 mark in 1999, a 20-11 record in 2000, a 21-11 mark in 2003, 2005's 25-8 record and last season's 21-14 mark.

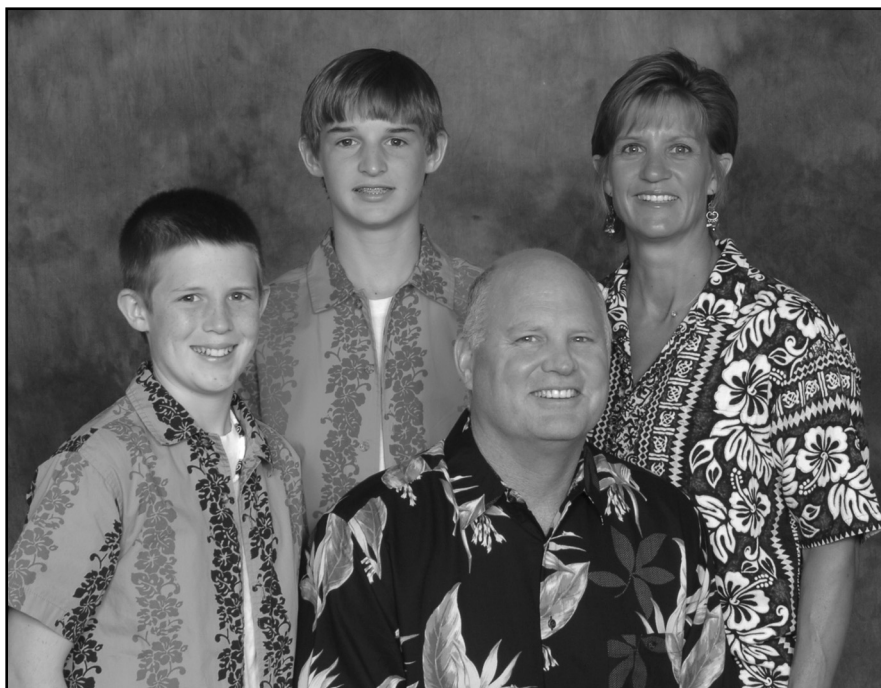

Cummings was named the head volleyball coach at Arkansas State in May of 1996. He is the fifth coach in the program's 29-year history. He had spent the previous six seasons as head coach at his alma mater, Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo, in San Luis Obispo, Calif.

As a player, Cummings played three seasons for the Cal Poly men's program from 1978-80. A member of the Western Intercollegiate Volleyball Association, the Cal Poly men played against some of the top collegiate men's teams ever to step foot on a floor.

She has been a part of 499 total matches as both a player and a coach at ASU including 270 Lady Indian victories and six conference championships.

She has made an immediate impact since returning to campus as an assistant coach playing a vital role in the team's recruiting. Mathis helped the Tribe to their ninth Sun Belt Conference title all-time in the 2004 season as the Lady Indians posted a 25-8 overall record on its way to an East Division co-championship.

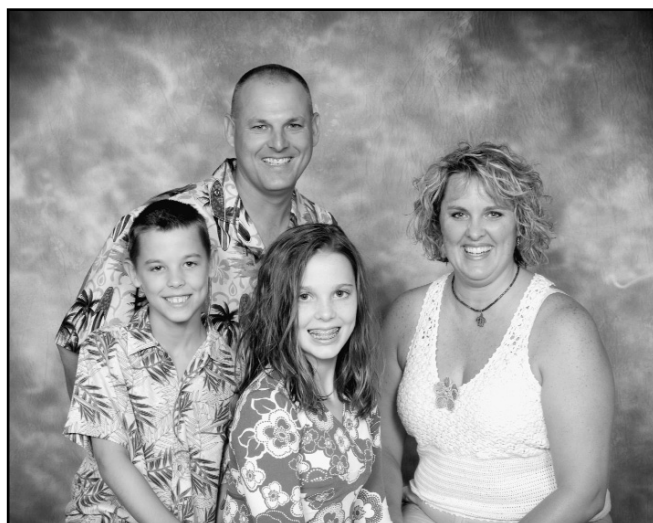

Mathis, one of the most decorated players in Arkansas State volleyball history, rejoined the Lady Indian program for her second stint as an assistant coach on March 27, 2002.

Mathis, who was a three-year letterwinner at ASU from 1990-92 and led ASU to its first NCAA Tournament berth in 1992, helped the Lady Indians to consecutive NCAA appearances in 1994 and 1995 as an assistant coach for former coach Jeff Hulsmeyer.

She finished her career second on the school's all-time assists chart (3,054) and is tied for third on the career hitting percentage list (.341). She also ranks fifth in career kills (1,359) and sixth in career digs (1,089) and blocks (421). *LOOKING BACK

TRIBE BOUNCES BACK FOR STELLAR 2006

The Lady Indians turned things around in 2006, after battling through an 11-19 2005 season.

The Tribe finished the 2006 season with a 21-14 overall record, going 12-6 in Sun Belt Conference play. Arkansas State finished in a tie for second place in the SBC West Division and was seeded sixth in the Sun Belt tournament. The Lady Indians dropped their first-round match to third-seed Florida International 3-0.

"I felt that we competed extremely well last season," Arkansas State head coach Craig Cummings said. "If we had picked up a few points here and there, we could have won the division."

The Lady Indians ended their season on a rampage, sweeping Louisiana-Lafayette, Louisiana-Monroe and New Orleans at Valley View.

"Sweeping the Louisiana

schools to close out the season was just tremendous," Cummings said. "Sweeping New Orleans was huge for what was riding on that match."

The Tribe was led by senior Randilyne Volkmer, who moved from the libero position to outside hitter at the beginning of the season.

"Moving Randi, we lost some defensive talent but gained a consistent hitter," Cummings said.

Volkmer led Arkansas State with 445 total kills, averaging 3.50 per game. She was also second on the team in digs, averaging 3.17 per game.

Senior Beth Jones led the defensive strike for the Tribe, ending the 2006 season with 147 blocks, averaging 1.13 per game, and moving up to seventh on the all-time blocks list at Arkansas State. Jones also had a .269 hitting percentage with 244 kills.

Junior Robin Aaron, who was named to the All-Sun Belt Second Team in 2006, was a dominant force in the middle for the Tribe. She led the Lady Indians with a .274 hitting percentage. Aaron averaged 3.10 kills per game, ending the season with 403. Aaron was second in blocks with 128, good enough for ninth on the all-time blocks list.

Junior setter Katie Peil moved to second place on the all-time assists list at ASU after recording 1,553 assists during the 2006 season. She finished fifth in assists in the Sun Belt. Peil also stepped up defensively, finishing third on the team in digs with 311, averaging 2.37 per game.

Redshirt freshman Jessalyn Payne, coming off a shoulder injury in 2005, was an offensive weapon on the right side for the Tribe. She was second on the team in kills with 419, averaging 3.30 per game. Payne also had 63 service aces, good enough for fifth in the Sun Belt. She also averaged 1.96 digs per

"Jessalyn Payne on the right side really complimented the work of Beth Jones and Robin Aaron in the middle," Cummings said.

Freshman Erin Neeley took over the libero position in 2006. She average 3.24 digs per game, giving her a total of 418 for the season.

"The whole combination allowed us to compete on the next level," Cummings said.

Highlights from the 2006 season include a second-place finishes at the Missouri State Invitational and Eastern Kentucky Invitational. Cummings also recorded his 200th win at ASU with the Tribe's victory over Denver September 24.

Returning Players in Bold

The Lady Indians have racked up 208 victories at the Convocation Center in the 19 seasons it has played in the arena. ASU has an amazing 208-45 record (.822) in the building since its opening in 1987.

The team has had undefeated home records in four seasons, including 2004, when the team was 14-0 at the Convocation Center.

The building was built in 1987 at a cost of $19 million and paid for primarily by the state of Arkansas. The 10,563-seat multi-purpose facility has earned its title as the "Showplace of Northeast Arkansas" over the past 15 years.

The Convocation Center is not only home to the Lady Indian volleyball program, but also the Arkansas State men's and women's basketball programs and the indoor home of the A-State track and

Beginning in 1990, the Convocation Center played host to seven straight conference post-season tournaments, including six straight Sun Belt Conference Volleyball Championships. In 1997, for the first time since ASU joined the Sun Belt Conference, the league's post-season tournament was held in a place other than Jonesboro.

The Lady Tribe won five of those seven conference tournaments it hosted, going 21-4 in tournament action at the Convocation Center.

Arkansas State has had crowds of over 1,000 for a volleyball match eight times, including a record 4,140 for a match against the University of Memphis on Nov. 25, 1995, that was part of a men's basketball/volleyball doubleheader.

ASU went undefeated in home matches in back-to-back seasons in 1988 (15-0) and 1989 (12-0) and won its first three home matches of the 1990 season to post a 28-match home winning streak the longest in program history. ASU has gone through a season with just one home loss four times, including three years ago in 2003. The other three came in 1994 (11-1), 1995 (15-1), and 1998 (14-1).

Not only does the Convocation Center play host to Arkansas State athletic home events, the building also attracts people from all over Northeast Arkansas and the Mid-South region for a variety of other events—from concerts to conventions, area business expositions and conferences, banquets and university and high school commencements as well.

UNIVERSITY*

Arkansas State University was established April 1, 1909, as a “public school of agriculture” by Act 100 of the Arkansas General Assembly. It was located at Jonesboro because citizens of the city bid $40,000 to the state and pledged 200 acres of land as a site.

After 95 years of growth, ASU-Jonesboro now has an annual budget of some $122.6 million, owns more than 3,000 acres of land in five different counties, has a physical plant valued at almost $200 million, and has an alumni roll exceeding 53,000.

ASU’s rapid development over the years has been typical of other major universities in an emerging modern South. From an agricultural high school in 1909, to a junior college in 1918, to a four-year degree-granting institution in 1930, to a university in 1967, ASU has become regionally respected and nationally recognized for its qualities of teaching, research and service.

The ASU system includes campuses at Beebe (White County), Mountain Home (Baxter County), and Newport (Jackson County) where associate degree programs are offered, and at Marked Tree, Searcy and Heber Springs. A new campus is being built for ASU-Heber Springs. An instructional site is located at Paragould.

The Jonesboro campus, which occupies 942 acres amid the gentle slopes of Crowley’s Ridge in east Jonesboro, is located between the vast and fertile Mississippi River Valley and the cultural and scenic richness of the Ozark Mountains.

More than 10,000 students annually work toward degrees in 141 areas of specialization at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Fifteen undergraduate degrees are offered through the Colleges of Agriculture, Business, Communications, Education, Engineering, Fine Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, Nursing and Health Professions, Sciences and Mathematics, and the University College. The Honors College was instituted July 1, 2004, evolving from the Honors Program.

Fifteen master’s and two specialist degrees are offered, as well as doctoral degrees in educational leadership, environmental sciences, and heritage studies. Pre-professional programs are offered in nine areas.

The bachelor’s degree programs with the most graduates are early childhood education, business administration, management information systems, accounting, nursing, agricultural business, and finance.

The top graduate programs, based on number of degrees awarded, are business administration, education administration-elementary principalship, reading education, educational administration-secondary principalship, communication disorders, nursing and physical therapy.

New academic programs are introduced as needed to respond to the rapid changes in our society. For instance, the athletic training program is the only such accredited program in the state. Academic strength has been enhanced with the Distance Learning Program which extends ASU's educational influence across the nation.

Also, ASU offers bachelor's and master's degree programs and upper level courses at ASU-Beebe, ASU-Mountain Home, and ASU degree centers in three Arkansas cities—Blytheville, Forrest City, and West Memphis—where partnership agreements have been established in cooperation with the community colleges in those cities.

ASU offers challenging, fully-accredited programs and a prestigious 600-member faculty with a vast number holding doctorates from other major institutions. Some faculty are nationally known for teaching, research and service in the sciences, humanities and professional fields.

Arkansas State University's commitment to excellence in higher education is demonstrated by its accreditation by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association, as well as 18 specialized accrediting organizations.

ASU's reputation toward excellence has been established in part by student performance in national competition, such as the nationally ranked debate team, and by the success of its graduates. The underlying principle of learning at Arkansas State University is its tradition of changing to meet the needs of its students and the society in which they live and work.

Arkansas State's new student union building is identified by a new fountain. The fountain was provided by the Chi Omega Sorority and serves as a beautiful landmark to enter the building

Arkansas State University continues to thrive and expand. The University is constantly undergoing change in its look, its increased enrollment, its expanding academic programs. The last few years have seen extensive physical changes including more housing, a parking garage, a new and refurbished student center, and there are more changes on the books for the near future. ASU is emerging as one of the leading universities in the South when it comes to preparing its graduates for the world's challenges.

Beautiful apartment housing constructed in the coastal style of the Gulf Coast or tropical islands cover the the east side of campus.

The recently completed Cooper Alumni Center serves as a meeting place for alumni and houses the office of the president. The center is located next to the pond that lies close to the Pavilion and just southwest of Indian Stadium.

New student housing was also recently completed on the north side of campus.

Arkansas State University is an educational institution, a community and a small city all wrapped into one.

Below: Arkansas State recently completed new student housing on the north side of campus.

The Academic Support Center is a success story and its importance to the campus community is continuing to grow and prosper.

Since the list was established in 1990, well over 150 ASU student-athletes are recognized each semester for academic excellence with their naming to the Athletic Director's Honor Roll. The roll honors those student-athletes who achieve a 3.0 grade point average or better in the classroom.

But, academic success is not only recognized on campus. Five Arkansas State University intercollegiate athletic sports (football, women's tennis, men's golf, baseball and cross country) received coveted Sun Belt academic team awards.

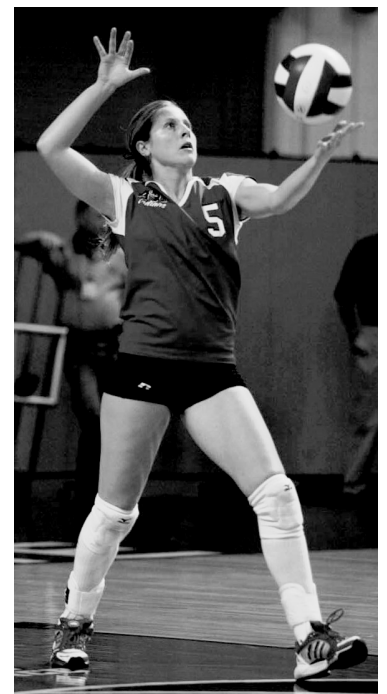

Over the past three years, ASU has produced several Academic All-District selections including Josh Yates (baseball, 2006), Brandon Eller (baseball, 2006) Jason Wood (football, 2004), Darina Semenova (women's track and field, 2004-05), Andrew Ross (men's golf, 2005) Giedre Tarnauskaite (women's volleyball, 2004), Sarah Palke (soccer, 2005), Brian Flagg (football, 2005) and Amber Abraham (women's basketball, 2005-06). Other academic awards went to ASU's volleyball team from the American Volleyball Coaches Association, the bowling team from the National Tenpin Coaches Association and the soccer team from the National Soccer Coaches Association.

recognized for graduating its student-athletes at a rate higher than its general student body.

For the last three years, Arkansas State's student-athlete graduation rate has been over 50 percent.

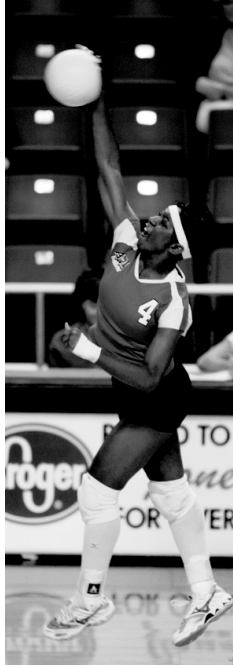

Arkansas State University has a longstanding saying: "Big enough to play your game, small enough to know your name." The names of student-athletes are known all over the country for their contributions to their sport. Champions are made at ASU. Opportunities are provided for all 16 of ASU's NCAA Division I sports. Just look at the names and numbers—12 Olympians, over 100 All-Americans, All-Conference, All-Academic and National Football League contracts. You name it . . . you can be it at Arkansas State. The people on these two pages prove it. They have excelled individually as well as with their teams. They not only represent themselves as champions but their school, community, friends, and family as well.

Three-time All-SBC First Team pick Adrienne Davie led the Lady Indians to the WNIT for the third time in four years.

T.J. Brewer earned First Team All-SBC Conference honors and was drafted by the San Francisco Giants.

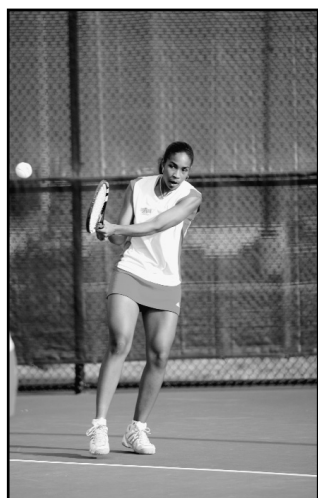

The 1975 undefeated, untied football team (below) was honored at a reunion in 2005 and recognized at halftime. Twenty team members were named to either the first or second All-Southland Conference team. Six players were drafted by teams in the National Football League and 17 total signed.

Along with baseball's Josh Yates, Shana Yoder was awarded the 2007 Terry Gwin Award.

Holly Churchill was named honorable mention All-America by the NTCFA.

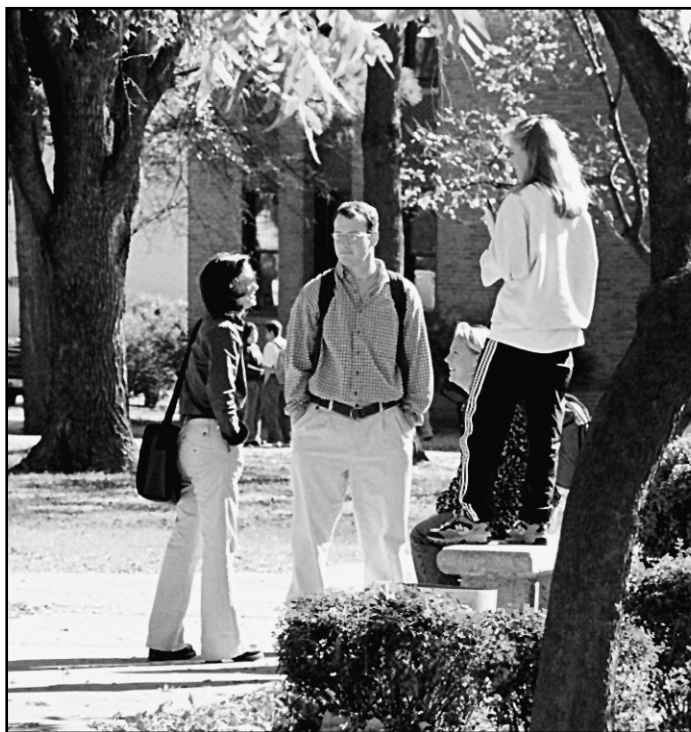

Life at Arkansas State University is exciting, youthful and vibrant. There is something always happening—with the students' best interests at heart.

Not only do all kinds of student events center around football and other sports, but nearly every academic discipline on campus offers societies or organizations to help spark interest.

More than 160 different organizations, including social and religious organizations, are available to promote personal growth of the individual.

On-campus concerts are regular events, as are cultural exhibits, plays, specialty shows and seminars. Competition is available through a challenging intramural program, and club sports are available.

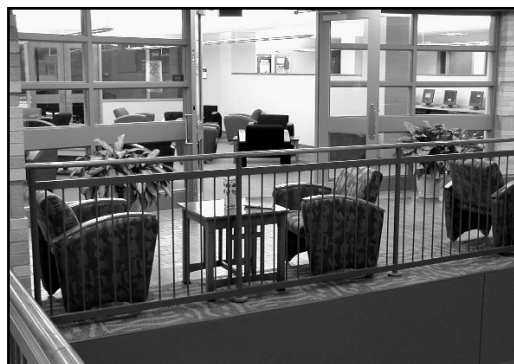

Academically, there are plenty of quiet nooks all around campus for studying but there are also plenty of opportunities for both challenges and relaxation and all that's needed to make life complete.

Arkansas State University is growing and improving life for its students. A new student union has opened in the middle of campus. It houses state-of-the-art equipment including a new theater (left), eating areas, exercise equipment, study and rest areas.

Plenty of student housing is available including Collegiate Park located directly behind the student center. Also, Jazzman's wired cafe is close to campus and a congregating area for using the internet.

Intercollegiate Athletic Committee

Nonie Wiggins

ASU President Dr. Les Wyatt announced the formation of the new Intercollegiate Athletics Committee in the spring of 1997.

The Intercollegiate Athletics Committee reviews and makes recommendations on issues involving the welfare of student-athletes, the role of athletics in campus life, and the athletics program's compliance with the University, conference, and NCAA regulations; serves as a search advisory committee for key athletics program personnel; reviews the role of existing and potential sports programs; and reviews the athletics budget. The committee reports to the Chancellor.

Membership consists of four students appointed annually by the Student Government Association (one should be a student-athlete); four faculty appointed by the Faculty Senate (staggered two-year terms); one Faculty athletic Representative appointed by the Chancellor (two-year term); one executive staff member appointed by the Chancellor (two-year term); the Dean of University College; two staff members appointed by the staff Senate (staggered two-year terms); Student Government Association and Student Activities Board Presidents; and representatives from the following external organizations: Alumni Association, Indian club, Letterman's Club, and the Jonesboro Regional Chamber of Commerce ASU Committee. The Director of Intercollegiate Athletics and the Senior Women's Athletic Administrator serve as ex-officio, nonvoting members. The Chancellor appoints a chair at the beginning of each academic year.

Dr. J. Leslie Wyatt III has served as the 10th president of Arkansas State University since July 1, 1995. A native of Texas, Dr. Wyatt holds a bachelor of arts degree from Abilene Christian University. He also earned a master of fine arts degree in museum education and his doctor of philosophy in education degree at the University of Texas.

Prior to becoming president of Arkansas State University, he served seven years as vice chancellor for executive affairs at the University of Mississippi. His earlier positions in higher education administration include vice chancellor for university advancement and dean of the College of Fine Arts at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, and as associate dean of the College of Fine Arts at the University of Texas.

In addition to guiding Arkansas State University as it continues to develop and enhance quality educational programs, Dr. Wyatt has led the drive to establish partnerships with Arkansas community colleges and technical colleges to make higher education courses and degree programs more accessible. His other major initiatives include adoption of an institutional self-governance system and a strategic planning process to guide the university into the 21st century, and a building program to meet students' needs.

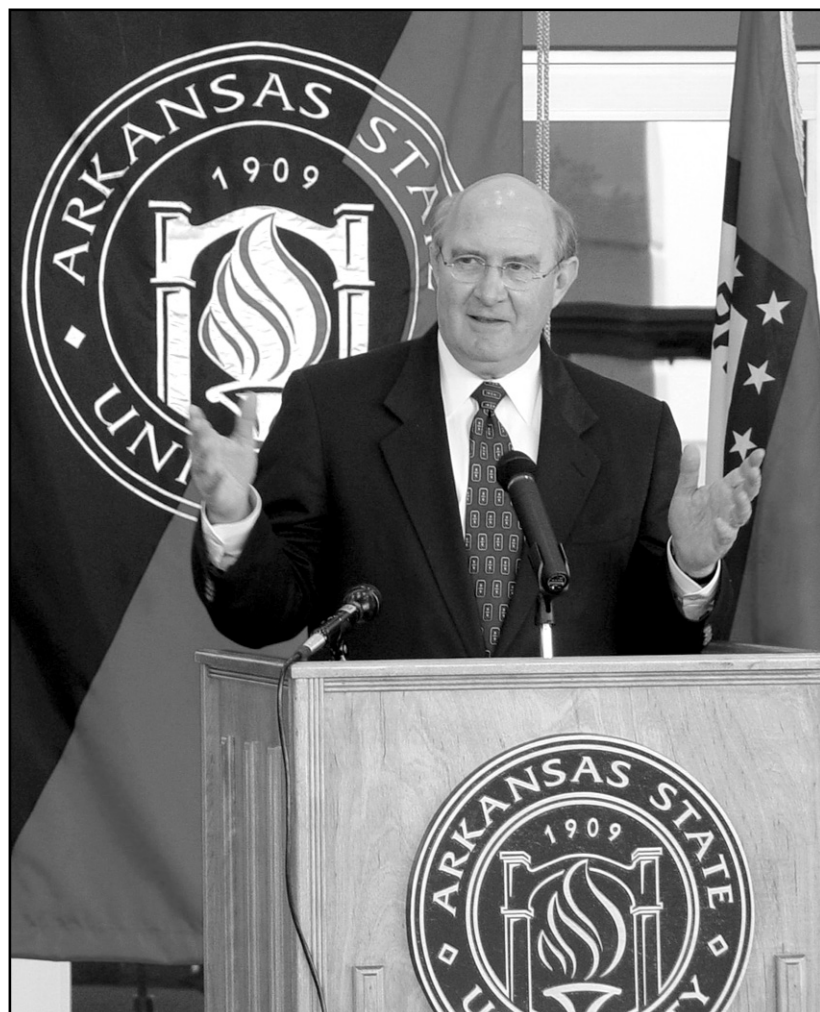

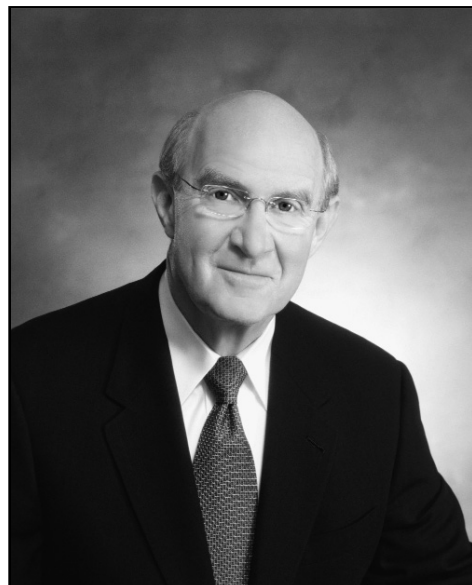

In addition to his academic leadership, Wyatt has been very involved in civic and public service activities. He serves as a director of the Greater Jonesboro Chamber of Commerce, the Jonesboro Industrial Development Corp., the United Way of Jonesboro, and of the St. Bernards Regional Medical Center.

As the past president of the Sun Belt Conference (ASU's athletic conference affiliation in all sports), Dr. Wyatt also played a major role in the advancement of athletics at Arkansas State.

A strong voice within the league structure, Dr. Wyatt worked tirelessly with SBC personnel and member schools to help ensure that the interests of the University and the league as a whole were addressed and met.

He was also a driving force in the expansion efforts of the conference and was instrumental in the effort to secure affiliation for ASU's football program.

Dr. Wyatt and his wife, the former Jeanne Cogburn of Forrest City, Ark., have three grown children: Cathey and Will (twins), and Betsy, and a grandson.

Dr. Robert L. Potts, a veteran administrator in higher education, was selected Oct. 6, 2006, to serve as the first chancellor of the Jonesboro campus of Arkansas State University.

Potts has had a distinguished career in higher education. Prior to joining ASU, he served as chancellor of the North Dakota University System. Previously, he served as president of the University of North Alabama in Florence, Ala., for more than 14 years. During his first months at ASU-Jonesboro, Potts engaged in listening sessions in the colleges and departments of the University, worked closely with the Faculty Senate in resolving issues of concern, and planned for a major capital campaign and the University's upcoming centennial celebration in 2009-2010.

After studying at Newbold College in England then completing his bachelor's degree at Southern Adventist University in Tennessee, Potts earned a juris doctor degree from the University of Alabama. He later earned a master of laws degree from Harvard University.

After clerking for the federal district court chief judge in northern Alabama, he entered private practice for 11 years, often working on education issues for institutional clients. He served as legal counsel for the University of North Alabama and the Franklin County Board of Education, and his civic involvement included service on the boards of trustees of Alabama State University in Montgomery and Oakwood College in Huntsville.

His first full-time involvement in higher education came in 1984, when the University of Alabama System named him general counsel. In 1990, Potts was selected after a national search to be president of the University of North Alabama.

At North Alabama, his accomplishments included streamlining the administrative structure, implementing a shared governance decision making structure, raising admission standards, and establishing a development and advancement office. He and his administration also led the university's first capital campaign, established a Child Development Center, expanded the international students program, completed a campus master plan, and implemented several construction projects, including academic buildings, student recreation center, four residence halls, and others. While at UNA, Potts served a term as President of the Gulf South Athletic Conference, and University athletic teams won five Division II national championships.

While with the North Dakota University System, Potts was chief executive officer for a system that included 42,000 students on 6 four-year campuses and 5 two-year campuses. Among the highlights of his work there, he provided leadership in creating a statewide collaboration plan for increasing the number of international students, implemented a new higher education administrative software system, continuing the highly acclaimed Higher Education Roundtable process that successfully aligned the higher education system with the needs of the state, and implemented the first stage of a $50 million Economic Centers of Excellence program for system campuses.

His list of professional activities is long, including membership in the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools' Commission on Colleges, the board of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities, the U.S. Department of Education's National Advisory Committee on Institutional Quality and Integrity, and several accreditation teams. He also chaired the Secretary of the Army's ROTC Program Sub-Committee, which focused on improving the Army ROTC and Junior ROTC programs throughout the United States. In addition to his administrative experience, he has taught at Boston University, University of Alabama, and University of North Alabama.

Potts met his wife Irene, a native of Sweden, while they were participating in an international education program in England. Now married for 42 years, they are the parents of two adult children. Julie Anna Potts and her husband, Parks Shackelford, live in the Washington, D. C. area where Julie Anna is general counsel for the American Farm Bureau Federation and Parks works for Florida Crystals, a sugar cane company. They have twin daughters and a baby boy, the Potts' first grandson, born last November.

Les Potts and his wife Holly also have two daughters. They live in Starkville, Miss., where he is employed as a pilot for Mississippi State University.

When the Arkansas State University athletics program reaches its 100th birthday in three years, Dean Lee's name will figure prominently in the celebration.

ASU athletics is entering its 98th year and Lee still has a little more time to continue restoring the old and building new tradition for Arkansas State.

Under Lee's direction, the ASU athletic department enjoyed another significant year in 2006-07. Not only did ASU enjoy some of the most exciting moments ever on the fields, courts and tracks, but also in the arenas of academics, donor and alumni involvement, community service and achievement.

Lee has guided the athletic department to annual success academically and competitively, but last year ASU athletics once again enjoyed growth through a number of unique accomplishments and projects as well.

For instance, a state-of-the-art ProGreen artificial surface was installed in Indian Stadium, a picnic area for fans was built at Tomlinson Stadium, ASU entered into a five-year agreement with adidas to make the company its official footwear and apparel outfitter, an impressive 53-foot long equipment trailer covered in a creative wrap design was unveiled and new festivities such as Jazz in Jonesboro and the Indian Club Luau were introduced to ASU fans.

Those are just a few of the many ways that the ASU athletic department continued to develop under Lee, who is always looking for new and creative ways to take the Indians athletic program to the next level while maintaining its main focus on academics, competitive performance and a well-rounded environment for student-athletes.

Entering his sixth year as Director of Athletics, Lee is even hungrier for ASU to have continued success in all areas. He has already made great strides in enabling Arkansas State's Department of Athletics become one of the most respected programs around.

Dr. Dean Lee became ASU's 10th Director of Athletics July 9, 2002. It wasn't long before the department began to experience important and progressive changes which were capped by an unprecedented "State of A-State" address in the spring of 2004.

When he concluded the address to a packed house, there was no mistaking that he is committed to building a successful program at ASU.

In a very short time, he has orchestrated sell-out and capacity crowds, overseen the expansion and growth of ASU's athletic facilities, and provided sound leadership to both the athletic staff and population of student-athletes.

Lee came to ASU from Oklahoma State University, where he was the executive director of the OSU Athletic Associates and assistant vice president of the OSU Foundation.

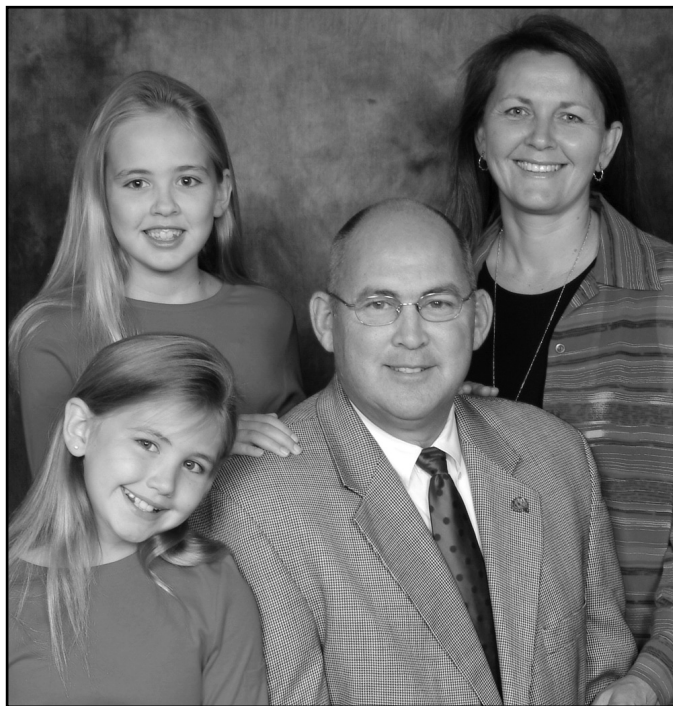

His administrative experience at two NCAA Division I-A universities, OSU and the University of Arkansas, and his achievements in mobilizing financial support make him well-suited for Arkansas State University and Northeast Arkansas.

In addition, Dr. Lee's experience as athletic director at Arkansas Tech University and his familiarity with ASU and the state of Arkansas help him feel right at home.

He earned his bachelor's degree in 1979 and master's in education at Henderson State University, then completed his doctor of education degree at the University of Arkansas in 1989.

Although born in Tulsa, Okla., Lee competed in high school sports in Arkansas, selected to play in the All-Star basketball game in 1975.

He also played basketball, baseball and tennis at Henderson State, where he later served as an assistant coach. He was head basketball coach at Malvern High School early in his career. Dean and wife Reba are the parents of two daughters, Diamond Olivia (12) and Anna Pearl (10).

Jonesboro, home of Arkansas State University, weighs in as the largest city in Northeast Arkansas. As a matter of fact, if you form a triangle by connecting Little Rock, St. Louis and Memphis, Jonesboro stands out as the largest metropolitan city in what amounts to a 17,000 square mile triangular area.

Jonesboro is a great city of 60,000, and is always ready to welcome incoming ASU students from the moment they arrive in town. The booming community has matured over the past half century into a regional center for cultural, educational, industrial, commercial, agricultural, communication, transportation, recreational and medical interests. It contains almost every convenience of a big city and every comfort of a small town.

The community is alive with cultural events such as the art exhibitions, theatrical and musical productions, not only on campus but in the city itself through the Jonesboro Fine Arts Council, NEA Foundation of Arts, the Forum and the Northeast Arkansas Symphony. One highlight is the annual Hispanic celebration when downtown Main Street is transformed into a festive explosion of Hispanic music, food and cultural activity.

Jonesboro is also the medical hub of northeast Arkansas and southeast Missouri, with two major hospitals and countless medical professionals. The city is also a shopping mecca, offering a modern business district as well as quaint downtown antique shops and restaurants. The $100 million Mall at Turtle Creek recently opened with more than 100 stores.

One of the five largest cities in Arkansas, Jonesboro is located between the vast and fertile Mississippi River and the cultural and scenic richness of the Ozark Mountains. It is nestled about 70 miles west of Memphis, Tennessee, on the gentle slopes of Crowley's Ridge.

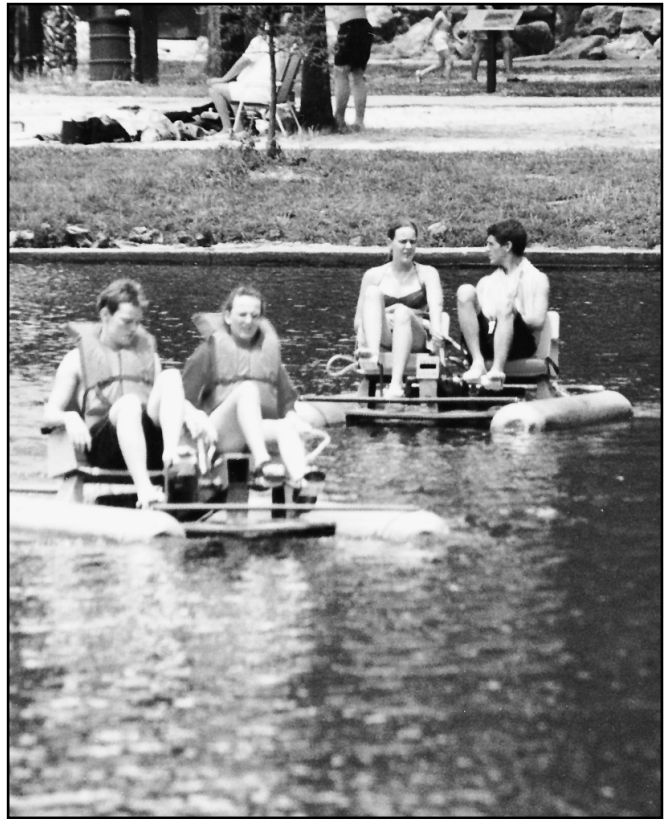

Jonesboro is a comfortable one hour drive from Memphis, two hours from Little Rock and four hours from St. Louis. The city and University have meshed resources in recent years and have truly become
